U.S. NAVY REFUSES TO MOVE WARSHIP AT SWATOW; SENDS DESTROYER THERE

Admiral Yarnell Tells Japanese U. S. Will Extend Protection to Americans in China Wherever They Need It.

STATE DEPARTMENT TO TAKE NO ACTION

Hull Says Request or Warning Wasn't Ultimatum to Get Out—Fresh Irritation at Amoy; Tientsin Deadlock Goes On.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—The United States Government has bluntly informed Japan that, instead of leaving Chinese harbors, its warships would stay in these ports as long as American citizens are in need of protection or assistance.

Told by the Japanese to take the destroyer Pillsbury out of Swatow, Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, chief of the Asiatic fleet, flatly refused. He went even farther, the Navy Department disclosed today, and brought in another destroyer, the Pope. The gunboat Asheville will follow from Hongkong.

Secretary of State Hull, talking at his press conference, took a calm view of the situation and said the State Department did not intend to take it up with Tokyo. Japan's request or warning at Swatow, the Department said, was not an ultimatum to American ships to get out, but rather a request to stay away from the zone of military operations.

Japan's Responsibility. Admiral Yarnell, after saying that American warships would not avoid interfering with Japanese operations so far as consistent with the duty of looking after United States interests, added:

"The Commander-in-Chief can accept the statement that the Japanese authorities can not take any responsibility for damages incurred by vessels (are) not withdrawn. It is not considered that this warning relieves the Japanese authorities in the slightest degree of responsibility for damage or injury to United States naval vessels or personnel."

All Americans Safe. Whitney Young, consul at Swatow, informed the State Department today that all Americans were safe. Forty-eight Americans, including children, live in Swatow, engaged mostly in missionary work.

Support for this Government's Far East naval policy, as voiced by Admiral Yarnell, came promptly from Chairman Vinson (Dem.), Georgia, of the House Naval Committee.

"I endorse it thoroughly," Vinson said, "as long as we've got American citizens there, it's the duty of the Government to protect them."

"I think if we stand firm Japan will back off," Representative Wicks (Rep.), Ohio, told reporters. The Navy issued the following statement:

"The Navy Department has been informed that Admiral Yarnell, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, informed the senior Japanese naval authorities that the permanent duty of the United States naval vessels is for the protection of American citizens and to go wherever it is necessary at any time to carry out that mission and to remain in such place as long as American citizens are in need of protection or assistance."

The Pope, which has arrived at Swatow, is a sister ship of the Pillsbury; they are of the World War period.

BRITISH FORCES ALSO DOUBLED

SHANGHAI, June 22 (AP).—Two American and two British destroyers stood by in Swatow harbor late today despite a Japanese order to withdraw. That foreign warships and nationals withdraw from that port during the day and except for the departure of 20 British women and children, the American and British communities stood pat.

GERMAN CROSSES U. S. CONTINENTAL DIVIDE IN GLIDER

Capt. Peter Riedel Claims Altitude Record of 17,600 Feet on Trip.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 22 (AP).—A glider pilot, intending to take a 10-minute observation flight over Winslow, Ariz., soared 300 miles over Arizona and Western New Mexico lava bad lands and deserts, landing the motorless craft in a pasture 13 miles west of Magdalena, N. M.

The pilot, Capt. Peter Riedel of the German Embassy staff in Washington, claimed an unofficial American glider record at 17,600 feet, recorded on his thermal barograph.

He expects to take off again eastward on his transcontinental trip as soon as his party arrives from Winslow and weather conditions are favorable.

"The desert climate was perfect for my flight," Capt. Riedel said. Although it was bitter cold at the high altitudes, gathering clouds formed up-currents to keep the glider in the air.

The captain's flight was the first non-stop glider trip over the Continental Divide in the Rockies. His craft is a two-seater Kranich, a German make, and has a 60-foot wingspread.

MAN BOARDS CHINA CLIPPER IN AIRLINE RACE AROUND WORLD

New Yorker Hopes to Overtake Pair, Who Left Last Week, at Marseille, France.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22 (AP).—Norman C. Lee boarded the China Clipper yesterday on the second leg of an attempt to be the "first" paying passenger to make a continuous westward flight around the world.

To do it the 43-year-old New York broker will have to overtake Mr. and Mrs. Mott of Sacramento, Cal. The Motts left a week ago aboard the Honolulu Clipper with the same purpose in mind on a celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Lee, a bachelor, hopes to overtake them on the 24,694-mile flight in Marseille, France, where the Motts expected to be delayed four or five days waiting for a plane.

Lee arrived by airline from New York, where he expects to return July 11 on the first western trip of the Pan American trans-Atlantic service. The journey, which won't get him anywhere, will cost about $2500.

RATTLESNAKE FLUNG INTO CAR

Why Author of "White Cargo" Walked Back From Ride.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 22 (AP).—Those blisters on his heels, Leon Gordon, movie scenarist and author of "White Cargo," did not come from walking home from an automobile ride.

He and Lester Molton, foreman, were driving across the Gordon ranch and ran over a stick, catapulting a live rattlesnake into the car. They deserted the machine without bothering to stop it. Their car hit an embankment and was damaged badly. They walked seven miles back to the ranch house.

DOG CHARGES MEAT TO MASTER

KINSTON, N. C., June 22 (AP).—L. P. Tyndall says if his dog, Rover, "wasn't reasonable," it wouldn't let him have a charge account, but he has never been a glutton.

When Rover is hungry he goes to a butcher and barks before a display case containing the meat he desires at the moment. The dog used to choose beef every time, but lately he has picked frankfurters and hamburgers.

BRITISH SAILORS STOP JAPANESE CARGO INQUIRY

FRESH INDIGNITIES HEAPED ON BRITONS

Some Forced to Strip While Women Pass and Passport of One Is Thrust Into His Mouth.

TIENSIN, June 22 (AP).—The sudden appearance of British blue-jackets today halted Japanese examination of cargo being discharged by British lighters while blockaded British further were heartened by a message of sympathy and hope from the London Government and the ending of the milk shortage.

This is the ninth day of the Japanese blockade of the British and French concessions.

A Japanese military patrol with drew at the sight of British blue-jackets after the soldiers had begun inspecting the cargo being discharged at the British bund.

The message from London, from Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax to Consul-General E. G. Jamieson, expressed the Government's sympathy to the blockaded British "for the difficulties and indignities they are being made to suffer."

Lord Halifax pledged that the Government would make "every effort to protect their interests and terminate the present crisis as soon as possible."

New Indignities to Britons.
The British Consulate-General disclosed a new series of incidents in which it charged Japanese soldiers forced Britons to undergo indignities and insults.

It said eight Britons were involved, some of whom were stripped naked and examined in full view of Chinese coolies and women passersby while the passport of one was stuffed into his mouth.

The Consulate-General's announcement said that when R. E. House, an importer, and H. J. Lord, assistant secretary of the Tientsin race club, sought to pass from the British concession through a Japanese barrier they were told to undress. Their clothes were held up to the light and their neckties turned inside out.

The examination took 15 minutes, while Chinese, including women, and a German passed through the examination shed.

Then, the announcement said, gendarmes told Lord to open his mouth wide. When he obeyed, his passport was pushed in and his hair rumpled.

Consul-General Jamieson protested to the Japanese Consul-General against the attempt to search the British lighters tied up at the bund.

Anti-British Meeting in Peking.
The anti-British campaign meant while spread to Peking where a mass meeting, to be followed by a parade, is to be held tomorrow.

The Japanese-controlled press announced that students, merchants, and minor Government officials had been instructed to take part.

Newspapers arranged to issue special anti-British supplements tomorrow while the Japanese-controlled Central Broadcasting station will observe "Anti-British day."

Fresh milk entered the British and French concessions today in quantity, relieving the shortage. Only a few isolated complaints of inability to obtain milk were reported.

H. F. Barnes, secretary of the Municipal Council, said: "The prospects for a continued milk supply appear good, which is most important news for concession residents. The children and the sick heretofore had suffered because of the lack of milk."

Fresh Food Shortage.
The fresh food situation however was deteriorating. Only 10 per cent of the normal meat supply was received today and only one-third of the fresh vegetables. Tables throughout the foreign areas lacked the greens particularly wanted because of the heat. Rice, beans and other staples were the foreigners fare.

A Japanese Embassy spokesman blamed the British for broadening the Tientsin dispute, precipitated by the British refusal to hand over four Chinese accused by Japanese of the assassination of a Tientsin customs official.

He charged that the British spread propaganda that all third-Power interests in China were involved in the Tientsin issues.

The establishment of a "new order in East Asia," he said, "does not necessarily mean the rights and interests of third Powers will be driven out of China."

He indicated the British might be victims of special discriminatory treatment, stating that while in principle Japan would treat all foreigners alike, "some Japanese individuals may act in a manner discriminatory to the British because they are aiding Chiang Kai-shek."

British authorities meanwhile took steps to prevent any incident which might aggravate the situation resulting from the Japanese blockade of the British and French concessions.

An additional company of British soldiers sent yesterday to reinforce the Durham light infantry regiment

U. S. Protest Unanswered.
United States Consul-General John K. Caldwell said that so far he had received no reply to a protest he handed Japanese yesterday. It came from the American Chamber of Commerce here and complained against blockade restrictions.

This was the third similar representation by Caldwell, one having been made last year and a second earlier in the present blockade. He said formal replies were not expected in such cases, but that an informal answer might be sought.

British still were willing to negotiate the lifting of the blockade on the basis of the original local incident—the demands for the surrender of four Chinese.

They made no attempt, however, to meet Japan's insistence that the difficulty be resolved on the basis of a change in Britain's whole policy in China.

The Japanese army commander, Gen. Homma, was said to have rejected a request by British Brigadier Maj. C. B. H. Delamain for an interview, relaying the answer that discussions would be useless except on a wider basis than the blockade had offered.

Japanese soldiers, it was learned, attempted to halt the Japanese Siamese when it passed the Japanese wharf yesterday on the way to Tangku with 100 British women and children, the first of about 1000 who will be evacuated from the concession. The Japanese ordered the ship to return, but when the captain demanded to know why, they did not reply and he proceeded.

A British lighter coming upstream from Tangku was compelled to stop at the Japanese wharf. Chinese police boarded the vessel and searched the baggage of several foreigners, including Britons, but allowed them to continue.

TOKYO, June 22 (AP).—The United States Charge d'Affaires, Eugene H. Dooman, again visited the Foreign Office today in connection with Japan's blockade of the British and French concessions at Tientsin where Americans reside. Dooman was authoritatively said to have "asked for official information respecting the situation inside the concession."

The Charge d'Affaires was received by Seijiro Yoshizawa, chief of the American section of the Foreign Office.

In a call upon Yoshizawa Tuesday, Dooman left a protest against a Japanese naval blockade of the international settlement of Kiangsu at Amoy and against Japanese bombings of American property in China.

AMOI, China, June 22 (AP).—Foreign Consuls protested jointly today against efforts of the Japanese Navy to divert food intended for blockaded Kiangsu Island, Amoy's international settlement, to Amoy proper. ## ROOSEVELT PROPOSES LENDING PROGRAM OF $3,860,000,000

ers, with a $500,000,000 limit and loans of $250,000,000 in 1940. Sixth, foreign loans to promote American foreign trade were put down for $500,000,000 for two years, with $200,000,000 going out in 1940. Roosevelt explained proceeds of these loans would be spent in the United States and would be used for development and reconstruction purposes in the foreign country.

Reply to Byrnes' Request.
The President's letter to Byrnes was in reply to one in which the Senator requested the President to advise him what effect a transfer of $125,000,000 from WPA to PWA would have on employment.

Roosevelt told reporters he thought the program he was outlining was a much better way of approaching the problem of work projects.

With reference to the earmarking of the $125,000,000, the President said in his letter:

"I am opposed to this provision. It simply means that 165,000 men who are badly in need of work will have to be dropped from the Works Progress Administration rolls; men who, in the great majority of cases, are the sole support of families whose subsistence depends on this slender income."

Assuming he believed "there is a better way to accomplish the laudable purposes of this bill," the President added that a great majority of people realized there were types of public improvements which should be undertaken when there was a need for stimulating employment.

"At such times the Federal Government should furnish funds for projects of this kind at a low rate of interest," the President said, "it being clearly understood that the projects themselves shall be self-liquidating and of such a nature as to furnish a maximum of employment per dollar of investment."

There should not be adopted as a permanent policy of the Government the development and maintenance of a revolving fund fed from the earnings of these Government investments and used to finance new projects at times when there is need of extra stimulus to employment.

Roosevelt explained he had canvassed Government agencies to find out what projects met genuine public needs and would be under way quickly and would liquidate themselves. He told reporters all the Federal agencies had wanted to go much stronger than he had and that he had to use the blue pencil on them.

Roosevelt explained, too, that the self-liquidating projects would be financed by securities guaranteed by the Government and issued by the agencies concerned, but with the co-operation of the Treasury.

The relationship, he said, would be the same as now exists between the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Treasury, so far as the mechanics of the lending was concerned.

Climaxes Long Study.
Announcement of the new program climaxed several weeks of study by Government experts on what could be done to stimulate business and employment. Yesterday Secretary Ickes wanted to go the relief bill, pending before the Senate Appropriations Committee, amended to provide $500,000,000 for public works under the PWA.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, said a lending program would involve very little new legislation. He believed the proposal would provide new uses of revolving funds of existing lending agencies and that it might be added to the relief bill.

Some administration fiscal advisers have proposed a lowering of interest rates, particularly on housing loans; removal of other limitations on various lending agencies; grants for self-liquidating projects, and creation of a Federal corporation to build and lease equipment to railroads.

Japanese attempts to cut off the food supplies of Kiangsu.

Forty-two Japanese marines landed at Kiangsu May 12 and a blockade was imposed June 15 to force acquiescence in Japanese demands for greater representation on the Municipal Council, governing body of the settlement.

The Consuls said negotiations with the Japanese on the demands would be resumed at a time mutually convenient. The Japanese Consul-General, Goro Uchida, returned here from Tokyo on Monday with new instructions and immediately announced the negotiations would continue upon "my initiative at some propitious moment."

HAMILTON-BROWN RULED BANKRUPT BY JUDGE MOORE

Action Anticipated Since Report Reorganization Was Impossible — Exchange Bars Its Stock.

The Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., once the largest manufacturer of shoes in America, which has been under a Federal trusteeship since April 18, was adjudicated bankrupt today by United States District Judge George H. Moore.

The action had been expected for several weeks, since the trustees, James K. Vardaman Jr. and John W. Lake, found it impossible to submit a plan of reorganization for the 56-year-old firm.

Judge Moore retained jurisdiction only over matters relating to liquidation of the company.

A detailed audit of the company, made available to creditors last week, disclosed that in the last four and a half months of operation by a syndicate the firm lost $405,000. Once prosperous, the company accumulated a deficit over the last few years of $2,785,000.

Stock of the shoe company was suspended from trading on the floor of the St. Louis Stock Exchange at 10:15 a. m. today.

Neither bids nor offers were on the market at the time of suspension. An offer of 10 cents a share was made earlier in the morning, but later was withdrawn. The last transaction was yesterday when 35 shares sold for 20 cents a share. There are 200,000 shares outstanding, of which 113,800 are deposited under a voting trust agreement controlled by a syndicate which took over control of the firm last July.

The company has six factories, in which 2850 persons were employed in peak operations. Two of the plants in St. Louis, have had little use in recent years. The firm depended on plants at Union, Poplar Bluff, Booneville and Columbia for the bulk of production.

Judge Moore gave the trustees, appointed following the firm's petition for reorganization, until July 3 to file a report of all money received and paid out while they were in charge. The next step on closing the affairs of the firm will be the election of trustees by the creditors.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., June 22.—A boy who said he was Bert Gotway, 17 years old, Wood River, Ill., was shot in both legs and two younger companions were captured yesterday when they abandoned an automobile in a blind alley and ran from New Albany policemen.

The machine bore one license plate issued to a resident of Wood River, where the plates of several machines were switched last week by a prankster. New Albany police reported the boys said they had borrowed the car for a pleasure trip. Gotway's companions said they were William Lasbury, 15 years old, Wood River, and Glen Ford, 16, East Alton.

Text of Roosevelt's Letter On Self-Liquidating Projects

President Outlines Proposed Public Works, Including Farm and Tenant Program and Loans.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT's letter to Senator Byrnes (Dem.), South Carolina, outlining a program for self-liquidating public works, follows:

Dear Senator Byrnes:

I have your letter of the nineteenth in which you ask my position as to the provision of the "work relief and public works appropriation act of 1939" as passed by the House of Representatives (H. R. Res. 326) which would allot $125,000,000 to the Public Works Administration for loans and grants for non-Federal public works.

I am opposed to this provision. It means simply that 165,000 men who are badly in need of work will have to be dropped from the Works Progress Administration rolls; men who in the great majority of cases are the sole support of families whose subsistence depends on this slender income. What will happen to most of these men is that they will be forced into already overburdened direct relief rolls of cities, towns and counties, or, if these are insufficient to care for them, into private charity.

Sees a Better Way.
I believe there is a better way to accomplish the laudable purposes of this bill. The great majority of people of this country have come to realize that there are certain types of public improvements and betterments which should be undertaken at times when there is need for a stimulus to employment. At such times the Federal Government should furnish funds for projects of this kind at a low rate of interest. It being clearly understood that the projects themselves shall be self-liquidating and of such a nature as to furnish a maximum of employment per dollar of investment.

There seems no reason why there should not be adopted as a permanent policy of the Government the development and maintenance of a revolving fund fed from the earnings of these Government investments and used to finance new projects at times when there is need of extra stimulus to employment. Such times will recur in the future, as they have in the past, and there will always be need for public facilities and improvements in our natural resources which can be most profitably met by the use at times of greatest need of employment of the accumulated receipts of such a revolving fund.

At my suggestion, various departments and agencies of the Government have canvassed the situation to find projects which will meet genuine public needs—projects that can be put under way quickly and, of great importance, will be self-liquidating. They have found a variety of such projects which have stood the test of careful scrutiny and which hold the promise of a great volume of productive expenditure and employment. I believe this is a much sounder method of dealing with the problem than the diversion of $125,000,000 of work-relief funds. All can be financed through the issuance of guaranteed securities by Government agencies with good prospect of repayment.

Types of Projects Listed.
I have caused estimates to be made of the extent of the field for investment of funds in revenue earning channels on a self-liquidating basis and in no way competitive with private enterprise. The estimates are, I believe, conservative. The types of projects I have in mind are listed below, together with the sums which, it is estimated, can be put to work to provide employment for men and machines in diverse lines of industry within the coming fiscal year. These projects are in addition to programs already submitted.

COMMENT IN CONGRESS ON LENDING PROGRAM

With 1940 Presidential Election.

COMMENT IN CONGRESS ON LENDING PROGRAM

Election.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—Many Congressmen quickly took sides for or against the President's new lending program announced today.

Senator Byrnes (Dem.), South Carolina, said he thought the program would be given "immediate consideration" by Congress, with the Senate probably taking the initiative on authorization legislation and the House on appropriations measures.

He said he planned to meet today, if possible, with other Senators and House members to consider a conference with the President. President Roosevelt invited such a meeting.

Senator King (Dem.), Utah, said the program was "just another name and it has no sound basis."

Senator Taft (Rep.), Ohio, remarked that "I am opposed to the federal Government extending its lending program except in exceptional cases."

Senator Ellender (Dem.), Louisiana, expressed support, saying that self-liquidation projects were more desirable than those for which the Treasury spends directly.

In the House Democratic supporters of the administration generally lined up behind the President's proposal. Democratic economy advocates reserved comment and some Republicans were quick to link the program with the approach of the 1940 presidential election.

Favor for the plan was expressed by Representative Cannon (Dem.), Missouri, member of the appropriations committee.

Representative Wadsworth (Rep.), New York, termed it an indication that Roosevelt intended to pursue "this reckless course" and said with a grin that he supposed the nearness of the next presidential election was "just a coincidence."

Expenditure than is indicated by the total estimated loan disbursements of $870 millions for the fiscal year 1940. Some parts of it will involve additional local expenditures not financed by Federal funds, and other indirect expenditures will be generated.

To give effect to the program outlined above, some supplemental legislation will be necessary. As a part, however, of the program for stimulating productive employment, I include another proposal which will not require legislation in addition to that now pending. This is the expansion of the public housing program of the United States Housing Authority through extending its borrowing power by $500,000,000. I have already indicated my approval of this legislation.

If you think well of such a program as I have outlined, I shall be glad to confer with you and your colleagues and with members of the House of Representatives. I am sending copies of this letter to the chairman of the appropriations, finance and banking and currency committees of the Senate and to the chairman of the ways and means, banking and currency and appropriations committees of the House.

Sincerely,
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

LONG'S BROTHER TO BE GOVERNOR OF LOUISIANA

Gov. Leche Announces He Will Resign Next Week and Lieut.-Gov. Earl K. Long Will Succeed Him.

ACTION FOLLOWS WPA INVESTIGATION

Executive Says He Is Stepping Down Because of Ill Health—Successor to Carry on "Fine Work."

BATON ROUGE, La., June 22 (AP).—Gov. Richard W. Leche announced last night he would resign next week, with nearly 11 months of his term unexpired. As Lieutenant-Governor, Earl K. Long, brother of the late Huey P. Long, will succeed automatically to the governorship.

Although Leche gave ill health—two severe arthritis attacks—as his immediate reason, observers noted the announcement followed days of the announcement of a Federal investigation of WPA activities in the State.

The Lieutenant-Governor, whose career has included staunch support and bitter denunciation of the late Senator Huey P. Long, immediately rushed to New Orleans for political conferences. He issued a statement he would carry on "the fine work done in the past 10 years under my brother, Gov. O. K. Allen and Richard W. Leche."

The unexpected developments threw several ambitious supporters of Huey Long and supporters of his still-intact political machine into dismay, since they were preparing to run for Governor next January. As incumbent, Long would hold a distinct advantage. He is 43 years old.

Two already had announced, one as an outright opponent of the administration, and the other as a candidate with or without machine support. The latter, State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell, came out openly two hours before Leche acted.

WPA Making Investigation.

Political storm clouds began gathering two weeks ago following publication by the New Orleans States of a story that a Louisiana State University truck, loaded with window shades made at the university, had taken them to a house being built by a close friend of Gov. Leche.

Leche promptly called an open hearing in Baton Rouge. The hearing later was indefinitely postponed pending investigation of "other matters." Soon afterwards the Shreveport Journal printed a syndicated article from Washington, in which Leche's name again was mentioned, and "respected" in a summary announcement by State WPA Administrator J. H. Crutcher that an investigation had been begun on orders from Washington. Crutcher said at that time that "if the evidence warrants, the charges will be prosecuted without delay in the United States courts."

Paul Hansen, chief of the WPA investigating unit for five Southern states, launched the inquiry yesterday.

Leche had been unavailable to newspaper men, who vainly sought him all week. The announcement of his first public comment following the WPA administrator's action.

The Governor, 41 years old, who took office in 1936 as a compromise between the former ambitious Senator Huey P. Long and the colorful personality but none of Huey's spirit and vindictiveness.

Long Once Assailed Brother.

He is noted as a rough-and-tumble fighter, with more gift for the direct attack and less ability in rhetorical debate than Huey Long, against whom he once turned in a public denunciation. Memories of the trade still stir "Kingfish" followers, who regarded Earl as a traitor.

An ex-traveling salesman like Huey, Earl Long finished law school and held minor political jobs for several years after his brother became Governor in 1928. He suffered from Huey's failure to support him in 1931, when an opposition ticket and finished last.

Later the brothers were reconciled, and at the time Huey Long was killed in the Capitol in September, 1935, Earl said he was "one of the leaders in the organization."

He sat in the conferences following the killing, emerged as candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and was easily elected.

The incoming Governor, two years younger than his brother now buried on the wooded lawn of the State Capitol, lacks some of the colorful personality but none of Huey's spirit and vindictiveness.

Showgirl Testifies at Fraud Trial She Once Had to Lend Him $10 or $20.

MARSEILLE, France, June 22 (AP).—The Atlantic Clipper took off at 10 a. m. (3 a. m. St. Louis time) today for New York by way of Lisbon and Horta with only eight of the 18 passengers it took off Europe on its "preview" flight across the Atlantic.

Six chose to stay for a longer visit, and a combination of bad weather and a heavy mail load forced the clipper to leave four men behind.

Capt. W. D. Culbertson received last-minute weather reports for the Lisbon-Horta leg of the flight which caused him to ask the four to stay behind. They will sail today from Marseille aboard the Italian liner Rex.

The four included A. C. Sibley, inspector of communications for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, Washington; Miss Marjorie Schuler of the Christian Science Monitor, and two Pan American executives.

The clipper's mail and baggage load weighed a little less than half a ton.

The implication that her husband approved of the lawsuit against her was false, she declared. The truth was that the suit was filed without his knowledge, she said. She asked that the petition be dismissed and that Carlo be reprimanded by the court for "abusing and perverting the processes of law in heaping unwarranted humiliation and indignities on a fellow citizen."

The union had no local officers during Nick's domination, which began about four years ago.

After the installation of officers it is planned to return the union to local control if the approval of the international union can be obtained. Local 143 is now operating under two receivers, J. A. MURRAY SAYS HE DOES NOT INTEND TO QUIT WPA JOB

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 22.—Matthew S. Murray said today he had "absolutely no intention" of resigning as WPA administrator in Missouri and had not been asked to do so.

His statement followed an announcement by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark in St. Louis yesterday that the Governor was confident Murray would resign "in a few days" in order "to be of no further embarrassment" to President Roosevelt and Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins. Murray was appointed Missouri WPA administrator by Hopkins, as national administrator, before Hopkins became Secretary of Commerce.

Murray, who has been one of the chief lieutenants of the tottering political machine of Boss Thomas J. Pendergast, said he was "proud of the accomplishments of WPA in Missouri and confident the money of the people had been well spent."

"If the money is allotted to us for the coming fiscal year, we will endeavor to carry out as worthwhile a program as has been carried out for the past four years," he added. "I sincerely regret the misrepresentation of the program, because a program as fine as WPA deserves only truth spoken about it."

Gov. Stark predicted Murray's resignation in a prepared statement issued on his way back to Jefferson City from Washington, where he had conferred with President Roosevelt on Murray's ouster. He also had visited Secretary Hopkins.

Also, the Governor designated W. E. Graves, former Attorney of Jackson County, as the next to go in the fight against the Pendergast machine.

Murray already has resigned from his $8000-a-year job as Public Works Director of Kansas City, following disclosure of payroll padding in his department. His resignation was in response to a demand by Mayor Bryce B. Smith that he resign either the city job or the WPA position, which has paid him $6000 a year.

Three Kansas City Policemen Who Paid for Jobs, Reinstated.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22 (AP).—Three policemen, suspended because of disclosures they had paid E. M. Relyea, former Governor of Puerto Rico, part of their salaries as compensation for obtaining their jobs, were reinstated today.

William M. Boyle, police director, sent the men back to their jobs on orders of City Manager Eugene C. Zachman. Francis L. Roach, Assistant City Counselor, advised Zachman they should not be punished because they desired jobs enough to pay fees to get them. Zachman said another reason was to encourage others to inform the city manager if they have been paying anyone to get jobs for them.

In a letter she asked him if he had lost anything lately. Last night he telephoned her and described his billfold and its contents. He said about four months ago he attended a convention in Jefferson City and misplaced the billfold. ST. CLAIR COUNTY HOSPITAL BONDS HELD UP BY SUITS

Henry L. Sienkman, County Treasurer of St. Clair County, and Oscar L. Becker, County Clerk, reported today they would not sign the bonds for the $672,000 County Tuberculosis Hospital, approved by voters in 1936, until all litigation over the bond issue was terminated.

The Illinois Supreme Court, in a decision Monday, affirmed a Circuit Court decision overruling objections of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. An injunction suit filed by eight business and professional men is pending at Belleville.

The county voted a bond issue of $672,000 and has filed an application for a PWA grant to bring the total cost to $672,000.

U. S. Revenue Far Above Estimates; Public Debt Now $40,365,074,929

Treasury Reports Receipts as of June 20 Surpass Last Year's Except as to Customs.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—The Treasury announced today that tax collections to date, with 10 lucrative days to go, already had exceeded estimates made in January by President Roosevelt for the fiscal year which will end June 30.

Quarterly June income tax payments were a big factor, it disclosed, in pushing the revenue for the fiscal year beyond those estimates.

At the beginning of the year, the President estimated Federal revenue would total $5,520,070,000, including $2,086,000,000 from income taxes. With 10 heavy collection days yet ahead, the Treasury said that on June 20 it had collected $5,566,650,830, including $2,148,070,134 in income taxes.

Because expenditures—which on June 20 totaled $8,975,998,988—also were lagging behind the budgeted $9,592,229,000, officials expect the deficit on June 30 to be about $500,000,000 less than the $4,072,259,000 anticipated five months ago.

Although income taxes were the big surprise to the budget makers, other branches of Federal revenue also exceeded estimates.

Miscellaneous internal revenue collections, which consist mostly of excise taxes on liquor, tobacco, automobiles, gasoline and a host of other items, amounted to $2,181,608,385 on June 20, compared with the full year estimate of $2,172,970,000.

Social security taxes, which are geared to the nation's payrolls, also passed the estimates with a June 20 total of $630,132,505, or about $200,000,000 above the estimates.

About the only important source of revenues, which lagged, was customs collections, which totaled $310,525,300 on June 20, about $25,000,000 short of the estimate for the year, with no hope of catching up in the remaining 10 days.

The final expenditure total was uncertain because of the usual rush of Federal agencies to use up as much of the balance of their appropriations as possible before the end of the fiscal year.

Meanwhile, the Federal debt, which has climbed to successive new records, reached a new high of $40,365,074,929, which was $3,200,334,614 larger than at the beginning of the fiscal period.

WIND BLOWS DOWN TREES IN SOUTHERN PART OF CITY

Recorded Rain Yesterday Less Than Fifth of an Inch But Fall Was Heavier in Some Sections.

Trees were blown down in the south and southwest sections of the city between 6 and 7 o'clock last night by a high wind which accompanied an electrical storm. Squad Truck 22, the police emergency vehicle, made 32 trips to clear away debris. The automobile of James M. Mullin, parked in front of his home, 5012 Lansdowne avenue, was damaged when a tree fell on it.

Rainfall recorded at the Weather Bureau between 6 a. m. yesterday and the same hour today totaled only .19 of an inch, but was much heavier in the south and southwestern parts of the city. Rainfall for the year is 3.22 inches above normal.

In spite of the heavy rains which fell early in the evening, 7400 persons attended the performance of "Lost Valley" at the Municipal Theater. There was no rain during the performance.

Because of the rain, the Clayton popular concert was canceled about 7 o'clock. Sponsors of the series telephoned as many subscribers as they could, but failed to reach 40 persons, who went to Shaw Park at 8:30 o'clock. Unwilling to disappoint them, the musicians formed string quartets and gave an impromptu concert on the second floor of the clubhouse. The postponed program will be given tomorrow night.

U. S. MARINE BAND WON'T PLAY AT ELKS' CONVENTION HERE

Local Union Withdrew Offer But International Office Refuses to Lift Bar.

The United States Marine Band will not play at the Elks national convention here next month because of the refusal of the international office of the American Federation of Musicians to withdraw its objection to the appearance of the band, it was stated today by E. J. McMahon, executive director of the Elks' Convention Corporation.

He added that the convention organization was working in harmony with the local musicians' union and there has been no union opposition to the proposed appearance of the Sixth Infantry and 138th Infantry bands in the Elks' parade. At least five union bands and orchestras would play during the convention, July 9 to 13, McMahon said.

The St. Louis Musicians' Union, which last March asked its international office to investigate the efforts then being made to bring the Marine Band to the convention, later withdrew its objection on being assured of liberal employment of its members.

STARK HINTS HE'LL OUST MRS. RYDER

Irked by Her Reported Opposition to Blind Pension Bill.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 22.—Gov. Stark indicated at a press conference today that he would replace Mrs. Mary E. Ryder as executive director of the Missouri Commission for the Blind, presumably because of her reported opposition to the McReynolds bill which was defeated yesterday by the State Senate. The bill would have placed blind pension funds under the State Social Security Commission and assured Federal aid of about $1,750,000 a year for assistance to Missouri blind.

At the outset of the conference, part of which was "off the record," the Governor promised that it was a "shame" there had been so much "propaganda" against the bill and expressed the opinion some blind pensioners who worked against it had been misled. One of the organizations opposing the measure was the Allied Committees for the Blind, headed by Miss Adeline A. Ruenz, who asserted a change in the bill should be made to cover only amendment of the blind pension laws. Some groups of blind persons now getting a State pension of $25 a month objected to the bill on the premise it meant a reduction in their payments, predicating pensions on the basis of need.

Mrs. Ryder, whose office is at the commission's headquarters, 3630 Grandel square, St. Louis, withheld comment on the Governor's apparent intention to remove her from position, which pays $3600 a year, by Gov. Guy B. Park in 1932. Active in Democratic politics, she has worked for organized labor, advocated repeal of the prohibition amendment and made an unsuccessful but vigorous race for Congress with the partial support of the Pendergast machine.

Gov. Park named her a member of the special commission on social security bill adopted by the Legislature in 1937, placing old-age pensions, dependent children and direct relief under a social service commission. At that time she opposed placing the blind pension fund under it.

DEMANDS GRAND JURY; NONE FOR FIVE YEARS

Platte County Prosecutor Asks Supreme Court for Writ Against Judge.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 22 (AP).—Robert B. Sympton, Platte County prosecutor, asked the aid of the State Supreme Court today in obtaining a Platte County grand jury to "investigate numerous felonies and . . . the official acts of county officers handling public funds."

Sympton asked the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to require Circuit Judge R. B. Bridgeman to show cause why he has "refused and neglected" to impanel a grand jury. Accompanying Sympton's petition was a request from three inmates of a Platte County jail asking that Judge Bridgeman be required to set a special term of court for their trials.

The Supreme Court probably will decide whether to accept jurisdiction at its next conference, possibly early in July.

Sympton said Platte County had not had a grand jury since 1934. He said he had evidence showing the commission of "four grand larceny cases, two perjuries and five homicides," but that only a grand jury investigation could determine the identity of those responsible.

He pleaded that his request to Judge Bridgeman for a grand jury to investigate the felony charges and "to study the public actions" of officials had been denied. The three jail inmates whose filing accompanied Sympton's also said the judge had refused their request for a special term of court last May.

Platte County is the home county of former Gov. Guy B. Park, hand-picked by Thomas J. Pendergast in 1932 after the death of Francis E. Wilson, the Democratic nominee. Some opposition was expressed to Pendergast's nomination because of the wide-open Riverside race track which ran unmoored in Platte County under Pendergast auspices during Park's tenure as Circuit Judge. Pendergast, however, went to Jefferson City and put Park's nomination through the State Democratic Committee.

HOW MO. STATE LIFE WAS BOUGHT WITH OWN MONEY

Financier Testifies Group Borrowed $800,000, Then Paid Off Loan With Firm's Funds.

By ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Julius H. Barnes, New York financier, gave his account yesterday of how he and associates bought control of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. in 1932 by borrowing $800,000 from St. Louis banks on the promise, later fulfilled, that the obligation would be assumed by the insurance company after the deal was consummated.

Barnes justified the transaction by stating "That's the way business was done back in 1932 or '33."

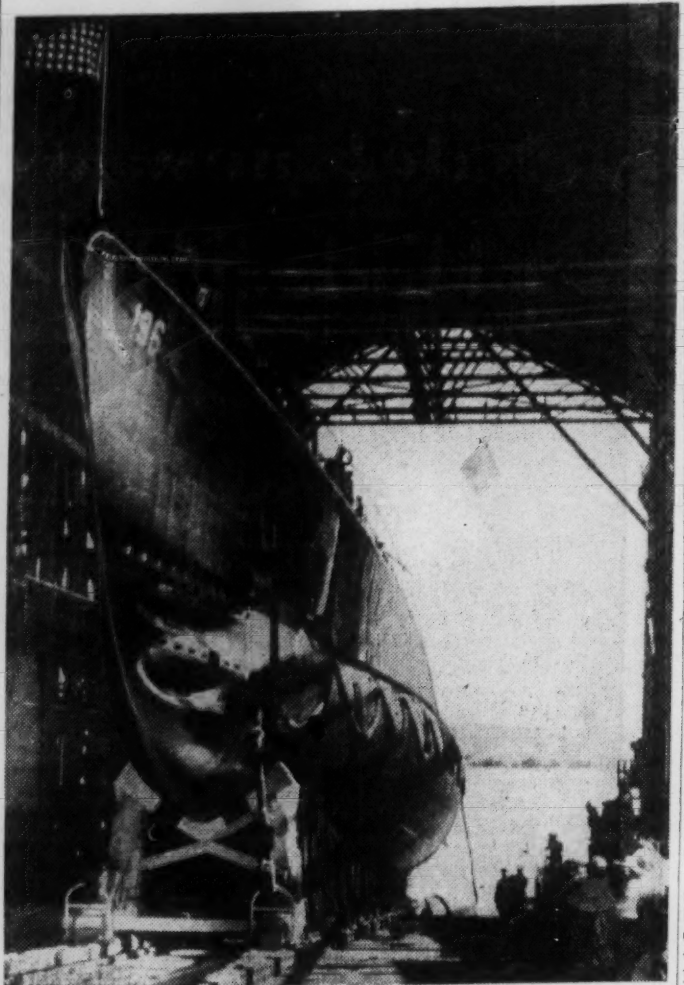

His testimony was given at a hearing conducted here by Special Commissioner James T. Blair, to determine if suit should be prosecuted against the former directors of the Missouri Life to recover the amount of the loan on the ground that it was an "improper purchase" when the insurance company bought the loan from the banks.

The suit was filed by former State Insurance Commissioner R. Emmet O'Malley, but will not be acted on by the present Superintendent of Insurance until Commissioner Blair makes his report and recommendations.

Details of Transaction.

The witness told of making tentative arrangements for the loan at a meeting in St. Louis with Frank O. Watts, Eugene D. Nims and William T. Nardin, all directors of both the First National Bank and of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. Nardin also was president of the insurance company. Barnes had informed the group that it was necessary to raise additional funds to purchase the large block of Missouri Life stock, because his Philadelphia partners, another syndicate, had failed to live up to an oral agreement.

"I was convinced," he said, "that even at the increased cost, the investment in Missouri Life was worth while both from the viewpoint of profit and of stabilizing the insurance business in which we were vitally interested. I still think that if Thompson (Joseph B. Thompson, former State Superintendent of Insurance who approved the guaranteed loan which enabled Barnes to buy the Missouri Life shares) or a man like him had remained in office it could have been done. Mr. Watts, Mr. Nims and Mr. Nardin told me that the loan could be arranged. We agreed that the bank should be protected."

No Written Agreement.

"Was there a written agreement to that effect?" Attorney Kenneth Teasdale, representing the Missouri Insurance Department, asked.

"No, not at that time," the witness replied. "There was existing right then, however, a strong moral obligation on the part of the company to take up the loan after the first of the year. That's the way business was conducted back in 1932 or '33."

Barnes said he had learned only after his return to New York that a formal commitment had been made by directors of the insurance company, underwriting or guaranteeing the loan that would enable him to buy control.

"I thought we should get along without commitments until after the first of the year," he added. "I was under the impression that the bank would carry us along for about a year until we had matters straightened out."

The $800,000 was obtained ultimately from three sources, $500,000 at the First National Bank, and $150,000 each at the Boatmen's Bank and the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. It was repaid out of the funds of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. shortly after the Barnes group gained control and about eight months before the company was placed in receivership.

What Might Have Happened.

Barnes disclosed that if original plans had not miscarried, the New York and Philadelphia groups would have obtained joint control of Missouri Life at a total cost of $1,000,000. Each group had agreed to post $250,000 cash and $250,000 in securities to be approved by State insurance commissioners. Securities offered by the Barnes group however, were not approved and the Philadelphia group, headed by Albert M. Greenfield, took over three-fourths of the large block of stock, in all about 30,000 shares or about one-third of the outstanding issue.

"Greenfield reneged on his promise to turn over an equalizing portion of the stock to us at what it cost him or a little more," Barnes asserted when explaining the urgent need for additional funds. "This blocked the deal because Superintendent Thompson wanted control of Missouri Life in the hands of one group in order to have an agreement made on a trusteeship, thus ending factional quarreling in the company."

"Greenfield finally offered to buy or sell. He had placed his shares in the Kentucky Home Life Insurance Co. which he controlled. He offered that firm to us at $36 a share, $20 more than he had paid for it, a total of $1,350,000, and we took it, figuring as I say that the investment was worth while and that we wanted to swing this deal in order to reassure policy holders." With money obtained from other sources and the $800,000 borrowed

150 UNION ELECTRIC MEN AT A. F. L. RALLY

Attend First Meeting of Drive to Organize Firm's 3000 Employees.

The first public meeting in the American Federation of Labor drive to organize 3000 employees of the Union Electric Co. of Missouri and its affiliates was attended by 150 men last night at Unity Hall, Grand and Page boulevards.

Union leaders, asserting they had received reports that employees of the company had been warned by their superiors to stay away from the meeting, expressed satisfaction at the attendance and said subsequent meetings would be held. Most of those present apparently were from the distribution and construction departments of the utility.

John J. Church, secretary of the Building Trades Council, who presided, said A. F. of L. agents had been negotiating for three months with Union Electric employees, who he said, were dissatisfied with the Employees' Mutual Benefit Association. Church termed the benefit association a company union, and told the workers, "your jobs are not secure under the present setup."

"Egan, Boehm and Laun believed their long time jobs were secure, but they were fired overnight," Church declared. His reference was to the recent resignations of President Louis H. Egan and Vice Presidents Frank J. Boehm and Albert C. Laun, resulting from the accident.

SEC investigation of the company's political activities.

Other speakers were Joseph P. Clark, president of the Central Trades and Labor Union; Albert Wegener, international representative of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Elmer Theiss, A. F. of L. organizer; Martin Dillmon, labor editor, and Thomas F. Quinn, member of the Board of Education and secretary of the steamfitters' union. Union membership applications were distributed.

Clark, Wegener and Theiss cited instances of the organization of utility employees by the A. F. of L. Wegener said the Union Electric Co. of Illinois had a wage contract with the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Theiss asserted that the North American Co., holding company owning all of the Union Electric common stock, "has made many labor contracts with the American Federation of Labor."

The organization drive was announced in newspaper advertisements and by signboards carried by pickets posted in front of the Union Electric offices. The campaign is to be conducted among all employees of the Union Electric Co. of Missouri, the Union Electric Co. of Illinois, the Mississippi River Power Co. and the St. Louis County Gas Co. A statement issued by the Employees' Mutual Benefit Association declared the employees were satisfied with wages, conditions and their association.

HOUSE ACCEPTS FARM PARITY COMPROMISE

Approves $225,000,000 Fund for Payments After Rejecting It Once.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—The House, reversing an earlier decision, joined the Senate today in approving a $225,000,000 fund for farm parity payments in addition to the regular $500,000,000 soil conservation benefit fund.

By a roll call vote of 180 to 175, the members adopted a compromise between original Agriculture Department appropriation bills passed by both chambers which contained the party fund inserted by the Senate.

The House rejected this fund by 13 votes last March.

The members began considering at once a long list of other Senate changes in the $1,200,000,000 Agriculture Department appropriation bill, including $113,000,000 for disposal of surplus commodities.

Two on Train Hurt by Lightning.

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP).—Two persons were injured when lightning struck an elevated train in suburban Niles Center yesterday. A woman passenger was knocked down in the rush to escape from the two-car train after the bolt struck, and the motorman was burned when the front car caught fire. Neither was seriously hurt.

APPEAL IN VOTE FRAUD CASE

Matthew Devor, Kansas City, Applies to Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—Matthew Devor, convicted on a conspiracy indictment in connection with the general election in Kansas City in 1936, appealed to the United States Supreme Court yesterday from a decision affirming his sentence of two years in a Federal penitentiary.

The testimony in the case concerned an alleged conspiracy between Devor and others to deprive qualified voters in Jackson County, Missouri, of their right to have their ballots for the Republican nominee for Congress counted in the 1936 election. Devor appealed from the Eighth United States Circuit Court.

SUBMARINE VALVE CHANGES URGED BY NAVAL ARCHITECT
One of Civilians Saved From the Squalus Says Present Air System Is Not Efficient.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 22 (AP).—A civilian expert in submarine construction—the only one of three non-navy men who survived the Squalus disaster—recommended today that the ventilating equipment of every United States submarine be changed in the interest of safety.

Testifying before a naval board of inquiry into the tragedy which claimed 26 lives, Harold C. Preble, naval architect who has participated in tests of every submarine built at the Portsmouth navy yard in 22 years, declared he did not consider the present type of air induction valve efficient or effective.

Previous witnesses told the board they believed failure of the Squalus main induction valve caused the disaster.

Hard to Close Valves.
Preble explained it would be impossible to close one of the present inboard valves manually with water coming in because "a man couldn't even get near it; he would be swept away by the water and couldn't do a thing."

"They are not in fact emergency valves because they are no good when water is coming in, and that's when we have an emergency," he added.

Regarding the Squalus main induction valve, Preble said:

"There's no doubt in my mind that it was closed and I don't believe it is possible for it to have come open. Some part of the mechanism must not have been functioning."

Preble said he believed rescue of 33 members of the Squalus' crew, including himself, from 240 feet of water with a diving bell "constituted the most efficient engineering project ever undertaken and completed in the world."

11 Crew Members Heard.
Eleven members of the Squalus' crew then followed each other to the stand in quick succession, describing their brushes with death.

An eerie note was injected by Machinist Mate Allen C. Bryson of Greenville, S. C., a "talker" stationed at a telephone in the forward battery room.

"I heard a statement on the phone," he said, "Take her up, the induction is open."

The voice was "hazy," he said, and he could not identify it or determine from what section of the submarine it came.

Lloyd B. Maness, electrician's mate of Greensboro, N. C., regarded as one of the heroes of the disaster after he exercised "superhuman strength" to shut the watertight door that saved 32 of his companions, was preceded on the stand by three of the last five men who squeezed through the door.

Fought Way Through Water.
Walter L. Washburn, seaman, of Greenwich, O., Raymond F. O'Hara, pharmacist's mate, of Elmira, N. Y., and William Boulton, seaman, of Luton, Ia., told how they had fought their way through the swirling water in the after compartments to reach safety.

"Water came in at a pretty good pressure and kind of washed me back," Washburn said. "I had to pull myself up to the control room."

Maness said merely that "several men passed me." He added:

"The water was up to my feet and coming in very rapidly. I believe I was the last man out of the after battery compartment. When I went through I closed the door behind me. Water was getting up pretty high. I looked through the eye port of the door. I could see no one. The lights were out and the water was right up to the eye port."

"Later I got a flashlight and tried to look in, but still could see no one. It would have been impossible to open the door even if I had seen anyone, because of the pressure of the water."

RUSSIA ANSWERS BRITISH-FRENCH PACT PROPOSALS
Contents Undisclosed but Earlier Foreign Office Bulletin Called New Offer No Better Than Old.

MOSCOW, June 22 (AP).—Soviet Russia tonight delivered its formal reply to the latest British-French proposals for a mutual assistance pact. There was no indication what it contained. Yesterday, however, a Foreign Office bulletin said "the new" British-French proposals do not represent any improvement over the previous proposals.

A Soviet communique issued after British Ambassador William Seeds, French Ambassador Paul Emile Naggiar and William Strang, special British envoy, visited Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov ironically observed that the newest British-French proposals not only fell short of the mark but were not even new.

The impression grew that Strang's mission to Moscow had failed. This, however, was not necessarily taken to mean that the long-standing negotiations to bring Russia into the French-British front had collapsed entirely.

Some experienced observers believed that a new British-French overture might yet win favor in Moscow—providing that it did not come from the governments headed by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Daladier. Soviet sus-

MOVE FOR BAIL FOR LONDE IN CUBA (MO.) BOMBING
No Action Yet in Gangster's Case, Pending Investigation of Securities Traded.

Efforts to obtain the release of Izzy Londre, St. Louis gangster, on bond pending his trial next October on a bombing charge were made at Steelville, Mo., yesterday by Londre's wife and four St. Louis property owners. No action was taken pending investigation of the securities.

When Londre was bound over to Circuit Court for trial after a preliminary hearing last Saturday bond was fixed at $25,000. Already under an appeal bond following his conviction in St. Louis and sentence to 25 years in the penitentiary for bombing, the gangster was locked up at Union, Mo.

Those filing affidavits as prospective bondsmen with Sheriff Christ Enke at Steelville are: James Egan, 3004A North Taylor avenue; Louis Grossi, 2527 South Kingshighway; Raphael Tivoli, 502 Talcott avenue, and James M. Murrah, 1532 Tamm avenue. Prosecuting Attorney G. C. Beckham and Grossi were one of the signers of Londre's St. Louis appeal bond and that Egan and Tivoli also were bondsmen.

The charge against Londre grew out of the bombing of a manufacturing plant at Cuba, Mo., two weeks ago, and the identification of Londre as a man seen scrutinizing the plant the day before.

NAZIS STRIKE AT JEWS IN CZECH TERRITORIES
Race Must Get Permission to Do Business in Bohemia and Moravia.

PRAGUE, June 22 (AP).—Some of the stringent measures which forced Jews from the business life of Germany were decreed last night for Bohemia and Moravia, the former land of the Czechs.

In a measure which struck the entire protectorate with its suddenness and surprised even the Czech Government, Reich's protector Baron Konstantin von Neurath decreed that all Jews must obtain his written consent by July 31 to carry on business.

He forbade them to make new acquisitions of real estate and stocks and bonds or to enter new business undertakings.

The Jewish population of the protectorate, which was the heart of the former Czech-Slovakia republic, is between 120,000 and 130,000.

Der Neue Tag, regarded as the organ of the protectorate, said Jewish property in Bohemia and Moravia was worth 17 billion crowns, or about $800,000,000.

About 21,000 Jews have emigrated since the Sudetenland fell to the Germans last October and Germany began to acquire a predominant influence in the former republic.

Under last night's decree Jews must report to the national bank all gold, silver or platinum objects or precious stones in their possession. They are forbidden to buy, sell or pawn them.

The Reich's protector assumed the right to appoint trustees to manage Jewish property, presumably until it can be "Aryanized."

German courts will handle all violations of the decree, although Czechs in the protectorate still are tied in Czech courts.

Adolf Hitler's newspaper said the decree paved the way for "the radical elimination of Jews from business life in the protectorate."

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, June 22 (AP).—The Cabinet accepted yesterday a proposed constitution setting up Slovakia as a republic, and approved an ordinance forcing Jews out of the army.

LA GUARDIA URGES SHORTER WORK WEEK TO PROVIDE JOBS

Says Intention of Wage and Hour Law Has Not Been Reached in Many Cases.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 22 (AP).

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York told the National Conference of Social Work last night the work week should be shortened to provide for extra shifts of men. "In many cases, all that has been done at this time," LaGuardia said, "has been to give overtime to the man who has a job without giving a job to the other fellow, which was the intention of the (Federal wage and hour) law."

The President of the United States Conference of Mayors said this "great democracy has established safety and fundamentally freedom of the press, assembly, religion, "but, my friends, you can not enjoy these freedoms on an empty stomach."

LaGuardia questioned the existence of large agricultural surpluses and asserted, "a real surplus is only that remaining after all the people have had all they need to live properly."

Mother Who Killed Baby Acquitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22 (AP).

Dorothy Newman, who threw her newborn son into a hotel light well where he died, was acquitted of a murder charge by a jury yesterday because she was insane at the time of the baby's birth, May 5. She was placed in the psychopathic ward of the San Francisco Hospital. "I wanted the baby," she sobbed when testifying. "I wanted it."

She said her divorced husband, Fred Strain Jr. of Oakland, wanted her to keep the baby's birth secret.

FORT ERIE, Ontario, June 22 (AP)—Police reported last night the finding of the nude body of Henry Doto, 12-year-old Buffalo (N. Y.) boy, in a clump of bushes near here. The boy had been missing from his home since Monday. A man listed as Stewart Mighswander, 25, Buffalo, was held under guard at a hospital today while police investigated the killing of the boy. The boy's wrists were bound with rope and there was a cut on his arm.

Mighswander had wandered into the admitting office of the hospital Tuesday, weak from loss of blood. He told an incoherent story of having killed a man. There was a deep gash on his right arm.

30 GASOLINE TAX PROPOSED AFTER TRUCK BILL FAILS

Committee Reports Searcy Plan Favorably; It Cuts Auto Licensing Fee 50 Per Cent.

By CURTIS A. BETTS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 22.—In an effort to save State Highway Department revenue following the defeat last night of the truck regulatory and licensing bill in the Senate, the Committee on Roads and Highways today reported favorably for passage the Searcy bill increasing the gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents per gallon, and reducing regular auto licenses 50 per cent.

While the defeat of the truck bill is not conclusive and it would be possible to reconsider it that course today seemed improbable because of the heavy vote against it. It received only six votes, with 24 in opposition.

Additional legislation is required for the Highway Department to have sufficient funds to match Federal aid, which this year amounts to $6,050,000, of which $4,550,000 must be matched if it is obtained. The department estimates that, without additional revenue, it will lack $1,500,000 of having sufficient money.

License Plate Fees. If the bill passed last week increasing the regular truck license plate fees becomes a law an additional $800,000 will be obtained, requiring $700,000 of additional funds from some other source.

According to Highway Department estimates, passage of the Searcy bill, with its increased gas tax and decreased passenger car license fees, would give a net increase in revenue of about $2,000,000 a year.

The Senate remained in session until midnight, the trucking bill vote being taken just before adjournment, and after debate which at times bordered on the ludicrous.

Few Senators Satisfied. In the form it had assumed when the vote was taken, the trucking bill was satisfactory to very few Senators, and probably to none of the trucking interests. The common carrier and contract hauler interests objected to it because it did not contain a provision for reciprocity, under which trucks owned in other states would be exempted from Missouri truck fees in exchange for exemption of Missouri-owned trucks by other states, and because private carrier trucks were exempted from all Missouri permit fees and regulation.

The private carrier interests probably had no particular objection to the bill, though nearly all the Senators who had fought for exemptions for private trucks voted against it.

When the bill was called up for action at the evening session, an amendment, presented by Senator Phil M. Donnelly of Lebanon last Friday, was first up for consideration. This proposed elimination of all the provisions of the act except a schedule of fees for common carrier and contract hauler trucks, and was offered in an effort to save something of the bill after it had been virtually wrecked by amendments last week.

Before his amendment was offered the Senate had stricken the reciprocity feature from the bill and had exempted private trucks. This made the bill unsatisfactory to both the common carrier and contract hauler interests, and it appeared that if put to a vote it would be defeated.

The common carrier truck interests, with a few contract haulers, had raised a fund in excess of $15,000 to promote "favorable" truck legislation, the principal purpose being to obtain the reciprocity provision, with the imposition of fees for private carriers as a secondary consideration.

Wrangle Over Private Carriers. The first development of the evening was an attempt by Senator Dick B. Dale of Richmond to put private carrier trucks back into the bill through an amendment to Donnelly's amendment. This precipitated a debate of more than two hours, with Senators James C. McDowell of Charleston and Allen Reynolds of Carthage leading the fight to hold the exemption for the private trucks. Their opposition was based on an objection to regulation of private trucks by the Public Service Commission, which would have resulted from the Dale amendment, and not on the basis of fees.

A substitute for the Dale amendment, to the same general purpose, offered by Senator Paul C. Jones of Kennett, was adopted, the fees being limited to the larger trucks, those in excess of six tons carrying capacity, the smaller ones being exempted from fees.

The adoption of this amendment caused its opponents to support a large number of other amendments, their theory, which proved correct, being that with all of the proposed amendments adopted the defeat of the amended Donnelly amendment was certain, thus exempting private trucks. By the time the Donnelly amendment came to a vote the Senate had even adopted two conflicting schedules of permit fees, making the amendment worthless. The Donnelly amendment was defeated by a vote of 6 to 24. Senator Kinney having changed his vote from aye to no to be in position to move for reconsideration today if some compromise could be worked out.

Senator Kinney said at the time of adjournment last night that he would not abandon the effort to obtain the passage of a bill. As any action which the Senate takes must go to the House for approval, it appeared doubtful today that the Legislature would adjourn Saturday, the date fixed in a resolution adopted Monday.

NEW MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS OF THE WEEK

Fourth Tarzan Picture at Loew's Theater; Drama About Prize Fighter And Wife to Ambassador Screen

Ann Sheridan and Dick Powell in Musical Farce, 'Naughty but Nice,' at the Fox.

A NEW Tarzan film with Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan, a romantic drama starring Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray and a musical comedy featuring Ann Sheridan, the much-publicized "Gomph Girl," are some of the features of the week at the first-run houses.

"Tarzan Finds a Son" opened at Loew's Theater today, and is double-billed with a prison melodrama, "6000 Enemies." In "Tarzan Finds a Son," the two main characters, Tarzan and Jane, are living in their jungle paradise when an airplane crashes nearby. At first Tarzan and Jane are suspicious of the plane, but they find it and Tarzan takes the baby away from them.

The child, a boy, is brought up in the life that Tarzan leads but when he is about five years old, a party of Englishmen searching for the wrecked plane, arrives on the scene. The question is whether the boy shall be taken back to England or not.

Taking the role of Tarzan's foster son is young John Sheffield, who played Pud in a Pacific Coast production of "On Borrowed Time" and later was in the New York east. Both Weissmuller and the boy went on a location trip to Silver Springs, Fla., where the more spectacular aquatic scenes were taken. The usual array of wild animals in African films was rounded up for the production. The present picture is the fourth in the Tarzan series.

In "6000 Enemies," Walter Pidgeon is a district attorney unjustly sent to prison through the machinations of a vice lord, Harold Huber. He meets Rita Johnson, a girl also sent to prison on a trumped-up charge, and by preventing a prison break they win back their freedom.

Ambassador — "Invitation to Happiness" and "Blind Alley." FRED MacMURRAY appears as a prize fighter in "Invitation to Happiness," at the Ambassador tomorrow, Irene Dunne is his wife and Billy Cook their son. Charley Ruggles is seen as MacMurray's manager, William Collier Sr., as Miss Dunne's father and Marion Martin as a night club singer.

The central theme of the drama is a domestic problem. In pursuing his ring career, the fighter is away from home a great deal, his wife is lonely much of the time and the son grows up disliking his father because of his mother's loneliness.

The production marks another collaboration of Director Wesley Ruggles and Screenplay Writer Claude Binyon, who were responsible for "I Met Him in Paris," "True Confession" and other successes. Director Ruggles and Actor Ruggles are brothers but this

FOOLING THE CAMERAS BECOMES SCREEN ART

Ernest Haller Gives Examples of How Trickery Works in the Movies.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 22. — To tell the truth on the screen, you must fool the camera. This was the conclusion today of a man who left school in 1913 to join a motion picture company and who since has come to be known as one of the leading cameramen in the industry.

He is Ernest Haller, whose long experience has acquainted him with the secret workings of a movie camera's "mind"—that intricate combination of light-bending lenses and photosensitive chemicals that seem to endow the machine with certain human faculties, including a disconcerting tendency to fib.

To present the producer's ideas on the screen in the shape they were conceived, he said, it is sometimes necessary to feed them into the camera in a different form. Haller was interviewed on a set of "Gone With the Wind." Technical production starring Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland, as he shot a rain sequence on a dry day.

"They used to say the camera never lies," he observed, "but that old bromide doesn't apply to modern apparatus and technique. These sophisticated, streamlined instruments lie every chance they get and it's up to us cameramen to adapt this immoral propensity to our own purposes, so the public will get reality."

"For instance, fog sequences are filmed on clear days with artificial fog, made by vaporized petroleum products treated with dry ice. This films better than real fog."

"Outdoor moonlight night scenes are filmed in the daytime with a little artificial moonlight. This has a little actinic value."

"Love scenes are better if the actor and actress do not love each other in real life. Real lovers are too self-conscious on the screen, and sometimes they won't break when the director wants them to."

"The best staggering drunk scenes are made by actors who never touch a drop. An intoxicated person moves on the screen as if in a daze—which he is."

"Fight scenes that are rehearsed are best. Real fights look unreal. None of the newsreels taken at the front in the Spanish civil war were nearly as exciting as studio battles."

"Big banquet scenes are usually filmed after lunch. This is because the actors, their appetites dulled, won't try to eat the property food.

"Ocean liner sequences should be made of dry land, with an artificial ship set. On an actual ship, the horizon moves around, confusing screen observers."

"Buckshot makes better film cavalry than the Russians do. The real stuff shrinks quickly under the hot lights, and looks like dried currants."

"False whiskers show up on the screen better than real ones."

"Cellophane looks like ice on the screen; real ice looks like a dirty concrete sidewalk."

LONG TERM IN SING SING FOR 'DAPPER DON' COLLINS

The strange career of "Dapper Don" Collins, 59 years, old, once a gay adornment of the underworld, was virtually ended yesterday by Judge Morris Koenig.

Convicted May 15 of extortion, Collins was sentenced to 15 to 30 years in Sing Sing.

The severity of the sentence was necessary, Judge Koenig said, because Collins, notorious as swindler, rum runner, robber, larcenist, blackmailer—descriptive terms in his probation report—was a second offender.

"I am no child," the probation report quoted Collins as saying. "I have been around, but today I am just an old reprobate."

CRITICS CALL FOR FURTHER REVISION OF NLRB RULES

Senator Ellender Wants Yearly Period of Freedom From Inter-Union Disputes.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—Revision of Labor Board regulations failed today to satisfy some critics of the Wagner Act, and as a result further changes appeared imminent.

The board's decision to permit employers, like unions, to ask for collective bargaining elections in certain instances brought these developments:

1. Senator Ellender (Dem.), Louisiana, predicted further revision of the board's rules, including a proposal to assure both employers and workers at least 10 months of freedom each year from disputes between unions.

2. Two House members who declined use of their names said the House would be asked to authorize an investigation of the Labor Board, despite the procedural change, with a report next January on proposals for altering the Wagner Act.

3. The A. F. of L. renewed its demands for changes in the act. Joseph A. Padway, its general counsel, called yesterday's revision an A. F. of L. victory, but said the federation wanted all its proposed amendments written into law.

4. CIO leaders let it be known they were opposed to the revision.

Ellender's Proposal. Senator Ellender, an administration supporter on the Senate Labor Committee, said that among proposals he had submitted to the board was the following one which members regarded favorably:

That after a union has established its right to represent a company's employees and has obtained a year's contract with the company, the board should entertain no petitions from a rival union until a short time before the contract expired.

"This would assure at least 10 months of non-intervention by the union which lost in the original election conducted to determine proper representatives for collective bargaining," Ellender said. He predicted that the board also would announce shortly rules of evidence which attorneys for many business men have advocated.

Other Revisions. Besides permitting employers to petition for bargaining elections when two unions in a plant refuse to ask for certification as bargaining representatives, the board agreed yesterday to:

Increase from five to 10 days the mandatory interim between the issuance of a board complaint and the holding of a hearing.

Require that bona fide unions which are a party to any contract held to violate the Wagner Act must be made parties to any Labor Board proceedings designed to nullify that contract.

These revisions brought commendation from some critics of the Wagner Act and the board, but the approval was coupled with demands that additional modifications be made.

"This is so obviously the right move that it should have been done long before this," said Senator Burke (Dem.), Nebraska, adding that he thought Senate hearings on Wagner Act amendments should continue.

At the other end of the Capitol, Representative Cox (Dem.), Georgia, commented:

"This slight change in regulations is not sufficient—it will not save them (the board). It demonstrates no change of attitude."

The proposal for appointment of a House Committee to inquire into the Wagner Act's administration probably will come up next week. Both Democratic and Republican leaders have said it would be approved by an overwhelming vote.

The A. F. of L. disclosed through Padway that it would continue its efforts to replace the present three-man Labor Board with a new five-man agency, to provide definite safeguards for union contracts and craft workers' bargaining units, and to assure court review of board decisions in union representation cases.

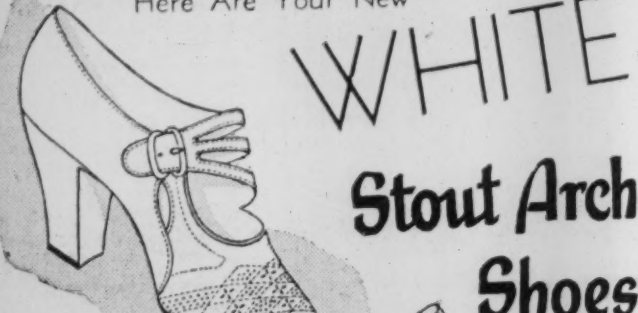

The Federation and business organizations championed the proposal to permit employer petitions for board elections. Employers complained they frequently were caught in the middle in rival union disputes where neither side felt its membership strength was sufficient to run the risk of an election.

Board Open-Minded, It Says. In letters to Chairman Thomas of the Senate Labor Committee and Chairman Norton of the House Labor Committee, J. Warren Madden, board chairman, said the board was open-minded on the question when the congressional hearings on Wagner Act amendments began, and was now convinced that the time has arrived to make administrative changes.

John J. Collins, instructor of history at Fordham University's school of education, told the Senate Labor Committee yesterday that David Saposs, chief economist for the Labor Relations Board, had been creating suspicion of independent unions among the board's staff.

He said the board itself had denied an application by one such union, the Texas Tanker Officers' Association, to be included on the ballot with a CIO organization in an election to determine collective bargaining representatives for licensed engineers on ships of the Texas Oil Co. The board refused repeatedly to give any reason for its denial, the witness added.

NEUTRALITY DEBATE

LIMITED TO 10 HOURS
Rules Committee Gives Measure Right of Way in House Next Week.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—The administration's neutrality bill was given right of way in the House today and will be debated by that body next week, starting either Monday or Tuesday.

The Rules Committee voted unanimously to give the measure a preferred status on the legislative calendar, and limited debate to 10 hours, with the further limitation that the 10 hours must be concluded within two days.

House Republicans indicated they would attempt to strike from the bill the provisions letting the President define "areas of combat operations" from which American vessels and citizens could be barred.

This provision has been described by Representative Fish of New York, ranking Republican on the Foreign Affairs Committee, as delegating more power than any President ever has had in cases of foreign conflict.

Fish and other members of his party contend that it would permit the executive to say that waters surrounding one country in a conflict would be barred to American shipping, whereas waters of the other side might be declared open.

Republican members of the Foreign Affairs Committee met yesterday with Representative Martin of Massachusetts, their party leader, and the Republican House Policy Committee to go over the bill.

Martin said no decision was reached as to concerted action but another member who attended the meeting said "it was almost positive" that the Republicans would try to eliminate the combat area clause.

Otherwise, he said, there was a wide divergence of opinion among the Republicans on the bill, which would repeal the automatic embargo on shipments of arms and munitions to belligerents.

Assistant Democratic whips, meanwhile, were engaged in canvassing the majority membership on the legislation.

SULFANILAMIDE USED

TO PREVENT BLINDNESS
Doctors Report Success With New Drug in Treating Babies at Birth.

MILWAUKEE, June 22 (AP).—A milestone in preventing blindness, by giving sulfanilamide to new-born babies, was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

This new drug, given in milk, clears eyes of all signs of gonococcal inflammation, the "ophthalmia neonatorum," which has been the largest cause of blindness. Within two or three days the babies' eyes are to all appearances well, and on the face of the records in the short time since the new remedy became available, the cures are complete.

This news came from the medical delegates in a general discussion at a symposium attended by about 50 doctors. The new treatment has been tried, it was stated, in all parts of the country, with good reports everywhere.

When the medical profession began a concerted fight to save babies' eyes at the start of this century, 30 per cent of the blind children in schools had been victims of gonorrheal infections at birth. Public opinion forced enactment of laws requiring that all new-born be protected by drops in the eyes. These drops usually were silver nitrate.

Ratio Drops to 10 Per Cent. With this protection the number of blind children whose affliction was due to gonococcal infections dropped to 10 per cent or less. Often it was difficult to be sure the drops were completely spread in infant eyes. Sometimes infections of the mothers interfered with prophylaxis. Treatment of difficult cases often required weeks, and by the time the dreaded infection was gone, scars sometimes remained to impair vision throughout life.

Sulfanilamide seems to avoid all the dangers of the old delays in healing by smothering disease germs in the human body, Dr. Ralph R. Mellon and Dr. Lawrence E. Shinn of Western Pennsylvania Hospital, Pittsburgh, reported to the association.

Sulfanilamide, made from a red dye and first used as a medicine in 1935, has been this century's chief medical sensation, and now is used for blood poisoning, pneumonia, meningitis, erysipelas, gonorrhea and a dozen other diseases. The smothering of germs appears to explain how it could be effective against such completely different diseases.

Robbing Germ of Its Oxygen. All these diseases, the Pittsburgh doctors said, are caused by germs. The germs are not the same, but in the diseases in which sulfanilamide is effective, all the different germs have one common trait. They get their oxygen from hydrogen peroxide. Buried in body tissues, they manufacture their own hydrogen peroxide with the aid of an enzyme known as catalase, which is a chemical compound generally present in any living tissue.

Sulfanilamide, Dr. Mellon and Dr. Shinn said, destroys this enzyme. Lacking it, the germs cannot manufacture enough hydrogen peroxide and so are weakened until the body's natural defenses are able to destroy them. The drug is not effective against germs which do not produce hydrogen peroxide, the report stated.

Germ's Build Up Tolerance.

However, germs can get used to sulfanilamide, so that up to a certain point they can stand increased doses of it. Three University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry scientists, Ruth A. Boak, Ruth Charles and Dr. Charles M. Carpenter, reported.

They discovered that gonococci are able to "get used to" sulfanilamide. That explains, they suggested, why, if not enough of the medicine is given at the start, later large doses also may fail in some cases.

Evidence that the new form of sulfanilamide, the sulfapyridine which last winter saved many lives in pneumonia, is good for gonorrhea was reported by Drs. J. F. Mahoney and Rolla R. Wolcott, of the United States Public Health Service, Staten Island, N. Y. It worked, they said, where plain sulfanilamide has failed. It has less bad effects, and they declared the sulfapyridine better than the other form for "mass treatment" of gonorrhea.

HOMICIDE VERDICT IN MAN'S FATAL STABBING OVER WATCH
Clarence McDonald Held to Have Been Killed by Stranger Trying to Sell Timepiece.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide at the hands of an unknown person was returned at an inquest today into the death at City Hospital Monday of Clarence McDonald, 606A Hickory street, who was stabbed last Dec. 10 by a man who tried to sell him a watch and became angry when he declined to buy it.

Testimony was given that McDonald, who was 42 years old, told his wife and police the man who wounded him was a stranger. The man asked $3 for the watch. When McDonald offered 50 cents and asked where he had obtained the watch, the man drew a knife and stabbed him twice.

Truck Kills Man in Buggy.
EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., June 22 (AP).—A truck crashed into the rear of James Richards' buggy on the outskirts of town last night, killing Richards, 70 years old, and injuring a boy riding with him. The truck driver said he did not see the unlighted buggy.

NEVER DEEPLY IN LOVE,

RUTH ETING DEPOSES
Singer's Statement of Last October Offered at Alienation Trial.

LOS ANGELES, June 22 (AP).—Love to the singer, Ruth Etting, is a "funny thing to define," and in her own case she never experienced it "very deeply," she said in Superior Court yesterday in a deposition offered by counsel for Mrs. Alma Alderman in her $150,000 alienation suit against Miss Etting.

The deposition was made last October. Miss Etting married Alderman in Las Vegas, Nev., in December.

Asked by Mrs. Alderman's attorney if she had "fallen desperately in love with Alderman," Miss Etting replied: "Not 'desperately,' I would not say 'No.'"

"Then did you fall in love, but not desperately?" "Well, I don't know. Love is a funny thing to define."

"Well, you were in love some time during your lifetime?" "I don't think I have ever been very deeply in love," the singer replied.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Pair Not in Court.
Neither she nor Alderman has been in court during the trial.

Miss Etting denied, in the deposition, she ever had lived with Alderman as his wife or ever had intimate relations with him.

Asked if she did the cooking for Alderman at his home, she replied, "I cooked pork chops for him."

Concerning the occasion when her divorced husband, Martin Snyder, shot and wounded Alderman at the latter's home last Oct. 15, Miss Etting explained:

"It just happened to be there with Edith (Snyder's daughter). I happened to be up at the house and we just got dinner." She said she had cooked for him several times before.

The singer told of the happiness she had experienced in being able to enjoy music with Alderman, her former accompanist.

"Happy Hours With Myrl."
"I had many happy hours with Myrl—I will say that," she stated. "Myrl is just that kind of person: he is the kind that anybody enjoys being around. I think, of course, most of our happiness was in our work and it was not personal."

These happy hours began after she was divorced from Snyder, she said.

"What was wrong with the same music before you divorced Col. Snyder?" she was asked. "Well, if you knew Snyder, you would know there wasn't any joy in anything in being around him," she replied.

She denied she displayed any marked affection toward Alderman prior to the shooting but said she felt "responsible" for him after he had been wounded by Snyder.

Hahn asked Miss Etting if she had ever given Alderman money. She answered that she had not, except for $25 weekly she paid him as her accompanist in 1935.

"Did you give him a black satin bathrobe, lined in red?" asked the lawyer.

Miss Etting said "No," but admitted she had seen him wearing it. Then she asked a question: "Do you think that a bathrobe is any inducement?"

"I must admit," Hahn replied, "that you have charms superior to any inducement that might be offered by a bathrobe."

"Well," Miss Etting remarked, "it must have been my charm he liked, because I did not give him anything material."

ROCKEFELLER MAELS 50,000 COPIES OF PEACE SERMON
Refers to It in Connection With "Drift of World Toward Conflagration."

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP).—John D. Rockefeller Jr. was so greatly impressed by a sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick at Riverside Church, Feb. 19, that he has had 50,000 copies printed and mailed to prominent persons all over the United States.

The sermon subject is "Dare we break the vicious circle of fighting evil with evil?" The mailing list, it was learned today, included Congressmen, labor leaders, business men and industrialists.

In a signed note placed inside each copy, Rockefeller said in part: "This sermon is one of the most arresting utterances in connection with the gradual drift of the world toward a great conflagration that has come to my attention. It presents vividly the futility of opposing evil with evil and the necessity of breaking that vicious circle." Never before have I so clearly grasped the force of Christ's teaching that the only way to overcome evil is with good."

By J. Roy Stockton

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, June 22.—Warneke, winner of the Cardinals, played against the Phillies in the final game of the series this afternoon. Kirby Higbe, pitcher for the Cardinals, was the hero, throwing a complete game, which started the Cardinals' comeback.

Baseball followers have been disappointed by the recent rainstorm, which kept the game from being played. About a thousand persons gathered for the game, which started at 7:30 p. m.

Don Padgett was behind the plate for the Cardinals and Manager Eddie Collins was in the box. The Cardinals presented a new batting order, with Johnny Mize fourth.

BOB COCHRAN ADDS 75 TO 77 IN STATE GOLF

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22 (AP).—Don Smith, the St. Joseph packing company employee, moved into temporary leadership in the 36-hole qualifying round for the Missouri State amateur golf tournament today by adding a 77 to his 72 of Tuesday.

Smith equaled par on the first nine but soared to a 5 on the par 3 twelfth and then found trouble on the fourteenth and sixteenth.

Bob Cochran, the St. Louis favorite for the title relinquished by Walter Blevins, had a 75 today. His 77 Tuesday makes him a sure qualifier. He was medalist in the 1937 and 1938 tournaments and runner-up to Blevins last year.

William Powell of Kansas City was the early leader with a 76 for 151 total.

A Bright Spot in Fred Haney's Life

Manager Fred Haney of the Browns hasn't much to laugh about these days but he's glad for one thing—the deal which brought Outfielder Joe Gallagher to the team. Here the boss and the new gardener are shown at Fenway Park, Boston, where the Browns have just completed a series. Gallagher has made 12 hits in 32 times at bat since joining the St. Louis team, for an average of .375.

WHITEHEAD IS BATTED OUT IN FIFTH; BERARDINO AND SULLIVAN DRIVE IN RUNS

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, June 22.—Jack Wilson defeated the Browns again this afternoon, holding them to six hits as the Red Sox took the rubber game of the series, 7 to 3, with Johnny Whitehead losing his third game since his trade to St. Louis.

Half of the Brownie hits were bunched in the sixth, when Myril Hoag and Billy Sullivan spearheaded a three-run eruption against the men of Joe Cronin. Hoag was top batter for the visitors, with a three-bagger and a double.

Although the Sox made two runs in their first, they put the game on ice and chased Whitehead by making four runs on three hits, two walks and a Joe Gallagher error in the fifth.

The tallies in the first were produced by singles by Cramer, Fox and a double off the left-field wall by the left-hand batting Williams.

The fifth was started by Cramer's single to right, then a walk to Vosmik, a one-run Fox single, a purposeful pass to Williams, loading the bases, and there followed a two-run single to left by Tabor, on which Williams also tallied as Gallagher booted the ball.

George Gil then relieved Whitehead and the Browns got busy in their sixth. Hoag led off with a triple off the left-center-field wall, and scored on Sullivan's double over first. A couple of walks loaded the bases, and with two gone, Johnny Berardino dropped a two-run single into short right.

A walk to Cronin, a steal on which he went to third on Glenn's bad peg and Vosmik's long sacrifice fly to right gave Boston its last run in the sixth.

Tomorrow the Browns move to New York to open a three-game series against the World Champion Yankees.

HOLMSTROM AND MORELAND ADVANCE IN ILLINOIS GOLF

CHAMPION IS HARD PRESSED BY 'DARKHORSE'

Bud Hemphill of Carlinville Leads at Half Way Mark but Loses Hard Match by 2 and 1 Score.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 22 (AP).—Defending Champion John Holmstrom of Rockford and Medalist Gus Moreland of Peoria survived first-round play today in the State amateur golf championship.

Holmstrom, 19-year-old University of Illinois student, trailed Bud Hemphill of Carlinville by one hole at the turn, but on the back nine he steadied his game and finally eliminated his stubborn and unheralded rival, 2 and 1.

Moreland won much more easily, defeating Alex Welsh of Rockford, finalist in last year's meet, 4 and 2, after piling up a five-hole lead on the front side, where his 36 matched per figures.

Charles Boyd of Chicago likewise advanced in impressive fashion, eliminating Bud Miller, Galesburg, 4 and 3.

Allan Wood of Chicago was defeated by George Lundberg of the Peoria delegation, 5 and 3. Lundberg was several strokes over par all the way, but, even so, he had little trouble disposing of his opponent.

Tom Cooley of Kankakee overwhelmed Robert Hill of Peoria, 7 and 6, after taking a seven-hole lead on the first nine. Cooley shot a two-under-par 34 on the front side and then ended the match by matching par for the next three holes.

Larry Miller of Quincy, two-time State champion, took a 9-to-7 decision over Bob McCord of Peoria. The former champion won seven of the nine holes on the front side and breezed on to the triumph on that lead.

Walter Dawson of Chicago, the only other former champion in the field, fell before the steady shooting of his brother, George, who defeated him, 2 and 1.

Robert Price, Wakegan's other title aspirant, eliminated Ted Young of Alto, 5 and 3.

Everett Imboden of Peoria, although shooting considerably above par, took the measure of Edgar Hutchison, Evanston, son of Pro Jock Hutchison, by a 3 and 2 margin.

ANGOTT AND SCOTT GO AGAIN POSTPONED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 22 (AP).—The scheduled 10-round boxing bout between Sammy Angott of Louisville and "Cowboy" Howard Scott of Washington, D. C., two of the nation's outstanding lightweights, was postponed last night for the second time.

Promoter Vernon Franklin said the fight originally scheduled for last Monday night and reset for last night, would be held next Monday night. He said heavy rains had flooded part of the outdoor arena.

ONLY ROAD WORK BREAKS DAY OF REST FOR LOUIS

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 22 (AP).—Aside from his usual jaunt over the roads in the morning and a session with cameramen in the afternoon, yesterday was a day of rest and relaxation for Joe Louis. The heavyweight champion made the most of it, contenting himself with lolling around the grounds of his camp.

With the date of his championship bout with Tony Galento a week away, Louis seemed more interested at the moment in his appearance as chief second of Dave Clark against Gus Lesnevich at Nutley, N. J., tomorrow. Joe pointed out that his "lucky day" should help Clark. Two years ago on June 22 Louis won the heavyweight title from Jim Braddock and last year on the same date he knocked out Max Schmeling. Feeling that such things "go in threes," Louis believes his presence in Clark's corner will bring victory to his stablemate.

Louis will resume training this afternoon and complete his siege here with workouts Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Odds Drop on Galento, Best New Jersey Price Is 6 to 1.

SUMMIT, N. J., June 22 (AP).—Mr. Svenen Jacobs and Mr. Trilby Galento today decided on their battle plan for next Wednesday night, when Mr. Trilby tangles with Joe Louis for the heavyweight championship of the world in Yankee Stadium.

They have decided the keg-shaped socker from Orange should, in effect, land right in Louis' lap as soon as the gong sounds for the first round. Of course, Joe won't be sitting down, but the result, if the plan works, should be the same.

If Tony carries through on the scheme he explained today, he'll rush across the ring, his face and chin protected by his arms, and lean against Louis' chest. Then he'll beat the Brown Bomber with that fearful left hook of his, and rely on that first punch to set up the champion for a Galento victory.

In this New Jersey area, the price against Tony has gone down considerably in the last few days. Where you could get 10 to 1 only a few days ago, the best odds now see Louis favored at only 1 to 6.

Try, Try Again.

SEABISCUIT is in training again and that can only mean his owner wants some $40,000 more in stakes needed to put this son of Hard Tack, the doughboy of the turf, into the big dough — the top rank as the world's money winner.

Sun Beau, with around $376,000, now leads the world.

It could mean that Seabiscuit wants another try at that $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap next March, although there are plenty of other rich stakes in California, prior to that one, which might be the money of the Biscuit.

Any owner would want to see his horse redeem those two defeats in the world's richest stake. In his first start, Rosemont nosed out Seabiscuit. Stagehand next whiskered him out of victory. This year the Biscuit went lame and did not start.

But the third time may see this great horse take the money. He deserves it, for his splendid achievements.

This year, however, his chance may be harder than ever because there are some really fine horses that may accept the issue—Cravat, Sir Damion, Thanksgiving, Johnstown, Challeon. Even War Admiral might be brought out.

It could be a heck of a race. Well, it will take a heck of a horse to beat Biscuit if his foot isn't sore.

Pete and the Movies.

CHARLEY PETERSON, "Pete" to all St. Louis, has just finished a movie short at M-G-M studios. It's a billiard film and if it can show the Fancy Shot King doing his stuff it ought to go over big. Never was an exhibition player in Pete's class and mighty few tournament players either. Pete writes:

"Have just finished that billiard short entitled, 'Here's Your Cue!' It consists of instruction, comedy and difficult shots. Most of it is slow motion. I am hoping it will be interesting and enjoyable. Felix Feist was the director. Hope the film won't prove to be a 'miscue.'"

It won't be—Pete had about three weeks to chalk up for this movie.

Is This a Race!

The little Browns of San Antonio are making their St. Louis big brothers seem cheap. At the start of the current week the Saints of the South had won more games than the three clubs which were tied for first place, just above them. The three leaders were tied at 544 and the Saints were 535. The last place club in the race was only eight games behind the leaders!

That ought to pack in the customers.

Midget Races Postponed.

The Midget Auto race program scheduled for last night at Walsh Stadium was canceled because of rain. Next week's races will be on Tuesday night.

Races at Ed Koenig's Cahokia track also were postponed due to rain, until next Thursday night.

Wray's COLUMN

membership in the Hall of Fame. A record of 494 homers, second only to Babe Ruth's total, a lifetime batting average of .341 and continuous service in 2130 games feature his career.

Also in seven world series he made a remarkable hitting record, batting close to .370 for the entire period; he was twice above .500.

Unless they limit the number of players deserving a place at Cooperstown, he's certain to make the grade.

No Doubt About It.

DOES ANYBODY NOW think Challeon is a better horse than Johnstown? Or does anyone believe there is a three-year-old of any name able to match strides from any of the Jamestown at any distance on a fast track?

After Johnstown's gallop to victory over Sun Lover, Challeon and others in the Dwyer Stakes, the answer is sure to be "No!"

Undoubtedly he is the year's champion. If he holds the form he has shown all spring, he will win every race in which he starts on a fast track, except possibly handicaps with older horses.

In this respect, even then we believe he is a better horse than Johnstown? He has, for example, been rated at 120 pounds for the Brooklyn next Saturday. Only three older horses have been given actual weights greater than that. The horses so weighted are Sayet 126, Kayak II 124 and Thanksgiving 121.

Johnstown therefore is conceding Cravat six pounds on the scale of weight for age. Kayak II eight pounds. Thanksgiving 11 pounds and Sir Damion 12 pounds.

The writer believes that regardless of these weight or age differences, Johnstown's rivals will be beaten. They don't seem to run fast enough to defeat the son of Jamestown.

The Brooklyn is scheduled for next Saturday and it would be interesting if Owen Woodward would send his ace to the post against his elders. It's the only way the bettors will ever get a price against Johnstown. At that, he probably will be favorite, if he starts.

West Coast Stars Outclass The Big Ten in Track Meet

BERKELEY, Cal., June 22 (AP).—Twelve thousand fans who saw an hour and 25 minutes of track and field competition before dinner yesterday were convinced of the superiority of Pacific Coast athletes over those of the Middle West.

They saw an all-star team of the Pacific Coast Conference run up a 94-1-3 to 36-2-3 victory over the Big Ten Conference in the first major twilight dual meet held in the Far West.

It was the third straight victory for the Coast boys in the three years of competition between the two.

The Coast team won 13 of the 15 events and scored a clean sweep in the 100-yard dash. Times and distances were not out of the ordinary, with best performances in the three long races.

Bill Dale of Washington State College was clocked in 1:51.5 winning the 880-yard run, while Louis Zamperini of Southern California took the one-mile in 4:11.9 and Ralph Schwartzkopf of Michigan the two-mile in 9:12.8, winning by 30 yards.

Roy Cochran of Indiana scored the Big Ten's only other victory, winning the 220-yard low hurdles in 23.3 seconds, a bare yard ahead of Southern California's Earl Vickery.

SCHOOL BOARD TO SEEK ECONOMY OF $319,000

Committee Votes to Leave Details of Savings to Executive Officers.

Executive officers of the Board of Education will endeavor to effect economies totaling about $319,000 in the fiscal year which starts July 1, under a budget decision adopted by the board's Finance Committee yesterday.

The committee, with this understanding, approved the appropriations of about $11,619,000 requested by the officers, who agreed informally they would make the savings during the year. It was proposed also to write the agreement into the record when the board adopts the budget at its next regular meeting, July 11.

If the officers succeed in making the economies, the resultant expenditures of about $11,300,000 will be less than the sum recommended for the coming year in the recent school survey report—$11,332,000. It was not specified how the savings should be divided among the various departments, the effect being to leave the officers free to work out the problem among themselves.

This arrangement avoided ordering salary reductions, the board and the officers being opposed to that expedient at this time. The question of retiring superannuated teachers and other employees has been deferred, with the possibility an actuarial and legal study may be ordered.

Even if expenditures for the coming year are limited to $11,300,000, they will exceed estimated income by more than $700,000. The excess will be drawn from the cash balance of working capital, which should be reduced at the end of the coming fiscal year to about $1,473,000. The survey report held this balance eventually could be reduced to a minimum of $800,000.

CONNECTICUT AND NEW YORK GET IN ROAD TOLL FIGHT

Former Starts Charging Latter to Do So Although Denying Retaliation.

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP).—"Toll-bound" Manhattanites who have to pay a fee to get off their little island in almost any direction looked with little enthusiasm today on a battle for dimes on the New York-Connecticut state line.

Connecticut started by installing 10-cent toll booths yesterday on the Merritt Parkway at Greenwich to finance a new superhighway to the State capital, Hartford.

Adjacent Westchester County, New York, while denying any retaliation intent, immediately began drafting legislation to charge motorists 10 cents a car for rolling over the scenic Hutchinson River and Saw Mill River parkways.

If possible, Westchester County hopes to exempt its own residents from paying tolls in New York.

Other motorists bound from New York to New England would be caught for tolls on both sides of the line.

If they motor to New Jersey it costs 50 cents through the Holland or Lincoln tunnels under the Hudson or over the George Washington Bridge; by ferry in any direction the price is 5 cents for the pedestrian trade; to the north across the Hendrick Hudson Bridge over the Harlem River the toll is 10 cents a car, and to Long Island the new Triborough Bridge it's 25 cents a car.

Before it was paid for, the Brooklyn Bridge charged pedestrians 2 cents a trip, but now it and the Manhattan, Williamsburg and Queensborough spans over the East River, to Brooklyn and Queens, are free, but one still must pay to ride the ferry to Richmond Borough—otherwise Staten Island.

DELEGATES SHOUT 'NO' TO TOWNSEND QUITTING

Pension Plan Leader's Offer Rejected After He Tells of Attempted 'Revolt.'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 22 (AP).—Dr. Francis E. Townsend told the fourth national Townsend Plan convention's opening session today that "some people" were attempting a revolt in the organization and he offered to step aside.

The delegates replied with tumultuous shouts of "No, no!"

"There are some people who are attempting to organize a revolt against the heads of this organization," he said.

"One delegation claims to represent seven states and is trying to overthrow our leadership. When you find a superman to take over the work I will step down and be a corporal of the guard."

The delegates broke into a roar of cheers for the 72-year-old Californian.

"Those who sow the seeds of discord in the clubs which cannot conform to our rules are going to be read out of the organization."

Once more the crowd howled approval.

"This movement ultimately is going to embrace the entire citizenry of the United States," he said, urging the delegates "to stabilize the work of the movement so that nothing can disrupt what we have done."

ELLIS H. PARKER AND SON SURRENDER TO ENTER PRISON

Former Burlington County (N. J.) Detective Chief Lost Fight to Escape Six-Year Term.

TRENTON, N. J., June 22 (AP).—Ellis H. Parker, former Chief of Burlington County Detectives, and his son, Ellis H. Parker Jr., surrendered today to begin Federal prison terms imposed for their conviction of conspiring to kidnap Paul H. Wendel.

U. S. Marshal William P. McDermott said the father and son would be taken immediately to Lewisburg (Pa.) penitentiary. The senior Parker is under sentence to serve six years; his son, three.

Their surrender ended a fight to escape incarceration which they carried to the United States Supreme Court. Earlier this month the Supreme Court rejected their appeal for reversal of conviction.

The Parkers were convicted of conspiring to kidnap Wendel, a former Trenton attorney, to force from him a confession to the Lindbergh baby kidnapping. Wendel's confession, later repudiated, caused a brief postponement of the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnapping and murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Wisconsin Authorities Waiting for Ray Olson to Steal Food and Disclose Whereabouts.
HAYWARD, Wis., June 22 (AP).
—The six-day search for Ray Olson, killer of two deputies, became today a game of waiting as possemen hoped hunger would force the fugitive to disclose his whereabouts by stealing food.

Guards remained at all resorts, stores and gasoline stations in the Moose Lake vicinity, where Olson was last seen Monday when he broke into a general store and stole food and tobacco.
Coroner Lester Anderson announced last night he had found a note written by Olson at the cabin of Indian John Blue Sky, where Deputies Fred Scott and Cully
Johnson were shot down Saturday when they attempted to arrest Olson on theft charges. Anderson declined to disclose its contents.

THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1939
Riverfront Memorial Area Reminiscent of Vivid Days
Within Confines of 40 Blocks Has Moved Colorful Panorama of Indians, Explorers, Pioneers, Slaves, War and Great Fire.

Peopling the pages of the past on the site of the riverfront memorial, which the Federal Government has acquired for development, are all the figures that turned these wooded hills into the first outpost of the West.
Within the confines of the 40-block area are places and buildings reminiscent of the lively history of more than a century, from the time the venturesome Frenchmen, Laclede and young Chouteau, started the village in 1764 to the opening in 1874 of James Eads' bridge, which brought in the railroads and all but ruined the steamboat trade.
Associated with the history of the site are pioneers in coonskin caps, Indians, not always friendly. Spanish colonial politicians such as great explorers as Lewis and Clark, pompous leaders of Missouri's territorial period, Capt.
Stoddard of three-day flag fame,
the early lawmarchers, fur traders,
Gen. Lafayette, Dr. William Beaumont, Robert E. Lee, who was here as a youthful army engineer; pilots and other lusty river men, the young Mr. Lincoln, U. S. Grant briefly as a real estate agent, the German influx of 1848, soldiers departing for the Mexican War, Dred Scott and many other Negro slaves, the men of the North and South in the Civil War.
At Dawn of Nineteenth Century.
The site, extending from the river to Third street and from Eads Bridge to Poplar street, plus a block in front of the Old Courthouse, covers almost all of the area which the town stockaded at the dawn of the Nineteenth Century. It was in this district that civic and commercial life was concentrated for many years thereafter, held by the picturesque magnet of the steamboat.
First habitations were erected in the block bounded by Main, Second, Market and Walnut streets. On the east side was a good-sized stone structure, used by the founders for a residence, business office and seat of government, which stood until the 40s.
The oldest building left in the area is the Old Rock House, southwest corner of the Wharf and Chestnut street, but it was not erected until 1818. In an unpublished historical pamphlet of the National Park Service, which has charge of the memorial, Charles E.
Peterson, architect for the service, says: "This was built by Manuel Lisa, the great fur trader, as a warehouse. In 1836, Wilson P. Hunt, leader of the Astoria Expedition, had a fur warehouse here. It was subsequently used as a sailmaker's shop and also as a tavern. The exterior has been somewhat superficially changed by later additions."
A saloon and small night club are the present occupants.

OF Historic Interest.
The following data on some of the other sites of historic interest in the area were taken from Pet-erson's work:
The Spanish Government House was at the southeast corner of Main and Walnut streets. "On this site J. B. Martigny built stone house 25 by 40 French feet, two years after the founding of the city. The property was bought by Gov. Cruzat in 1783 and used as headquarters of the Spanish Government until the transfer of Upper Louisiana in 1804. On the street corner outside the stockade stood the flagpole where the American flag was raised by Capt. Stoddard, representing both the governments of the United States and France."
Missouri's territorial House of Representatives held its first session in 1812 in the Robidoux-Sanguinet-Benoist house, northeast corner of Main and Elm streets.
The Place d'Armes, or parade grounds, occupied the south side of Market street, between the Wharf and Main. On its west end the first market house was put up in 1811. Eighteen years later a more pretentious market on the east end succeeded it, with city offices on the upper floor and stores and a jail on the lower floor. In the great fire of 1849, which destroyed a dozen blocks of the city, firemen managed to save this structure, only to see it razed the next year to make room for a new city building, five stories high and a block long. A bond issue paid for the city hall here, officials sold it;
it was destroyed in 1856.
Gen. William Clark, partner of Meriwether Lewis in Northwest exploration, had his last home on Main, south of Vine street. "Dr.
William Beaumont, discoverer of the process of digestion, lived here in 1838-39. Robert E. Lee lived here for a short while during the construction of river improvements."
Great Fire of Year 1849.
On the Wharf, almost directly back of the Clark house site, still stands the Nichols-Howard Building, put up in 1846-47, one of the oldest left of the city. The site of the property sold by August Chouteau to Gen. Clark. The great fire of 1849 began on the steamer White Cloud tied up here and spread to the buildings on the bank. This structure marks the approximate north limit of the conflagration.
Lafayette was entertained on his visit in 1825 in the home of Chouteau's brother, Pierre, on the west side of Main, south of Washington avenue.
The first courts were held at Emilien Yost's tavern, Main and Locust, in 1804, and the first militia was organized there four years later.
Still standing on the west side of Main, north of Pine street, is the Michael Building, where John Butterfield and S. M. Allen supervised the first Great Southern Overland Mail, which traveled to San Fran-

100 LEAP OFF MINE TRAIN WHEN MAN DIES AT CONTROLS
Cars Fall From Tiptoe and Crash 40 Feet Below on Ground in Wyoming.
ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., June 22 (AP).—Nearly 100 men rode to the surface of a coal mine with a dead man at the control of the car, then leaped to safety as the train crashed from the tiptoe and splintered on the ground 40 feet below.
The men were emerging late Tuesday from the day shift at the
No. 1 mine of the Union Pacific Coal Co. William Powell, hoist engineer, apparently died of a heart attack just after he started the train on its way out of the mine.
The miners jumped when the cars failed to slow up as they passed a switch track.

TWO JEWELERS INDICTED AFTER BURGLAR TESTIFIES
Ralph Graham, Accused of $2,000-000 Theft, Tells Grand Jury
How He Sold Loot.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 22 (AP).
—Ralph Graham's story of stealing costly jewelry from the homes of Barbara Stanwyck, Gary Cooper, Carole Lombard, Miriam Hopkins and Fannie Brice caused the county grand jury to indict two San Francisco jewelers.
Graham, said by police to have stolen jewelry valued at $1,000-000 in California and another $1-000,000 worth in Florida, was flown here last night from Los Angeles to testify. The grand jury charged Frank Cator and George Zwillinger, jewelers, with receiving stolen property.
Graham, so-called "Phantom Burglar of Bel Air," told the jurors of five different transactions in which he disposed of thousands of dollars worth of jewelry stolen from the homes of movie actors in Beverly Hills and Hollywood.

TURKEY TO SIGN PACT WITH FRANCE, TAKE OVER HATAY

Announcement of Mutual Aid Treaty and Ceding of Former Syrian Area to Be Made Tomorrow.

PROTECTION TO BE PLEDGED TO SYRIA

Ankara Will Promise to Protect Minorities and Abstain From All Propaganda in Mandate.

PARIS, June 22 (AP).—France and Turkey are ready to sign a declaration tomorrow announcing their determination to unite in maintaining peace in the Balkans and the Eastern Mediterranean area.

Informed sources said today that the French-Turkish understanding would signal great hopes in finally settling Soviet Russian adherence to the British-French pact in counterweight to the Rome-Berlin axis.

Turkey is a close friend of Russia. By the agreement with Turkey, France will synchronize further her diplomatic efforts with those of Great Britain, which already has a mutual assistance declaration with the guardian of the Dardanelles.

Turkey's aid would be important if France and Great Britain were forced to send ships and men to the Black Sea, Rumania's door.

Hatay Agreement.
French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet and the Turkish Ambassador are to make the mutual assistance declaration at the Foreign Office in Ankara, the Turkish capital, there is to be the announcement of another accord, in which Turkey is to get the Republic of Hatay, an area carved from French-Mandated Syria. Turkey, in getting this former district of Alexandretta, will agree, diplomatic sources said:

1. To defend the material and moral interests of France in the area.
2. To protect various minorities, including Armenians. Minorities represent about 60 per cent of the population.
3. To abstain from all claims on Syria.
4. To abstain from all propaganda in Syria.

Bonnet also will make a declaration, it was said, in which he will dedicate France to the protection of Syria's independence and territorial integrity.

The separate statement regarding Syria will be made in Paris, it was said, in an effort by the French Government to quiet criticism at home and bitter opposition of Syrian nationalists to the gift of Hatay to Turkey.

Assurance to Syrians.
Officials said the French Government would declare in the statement that France would not relinquish its hold on Syria proper to anyone except Syrians.

As soon as the French decide to give the Syrians their long-delayed independence treaty, officials said negotiations would be opened with Turkey for a Turkish-Syrian treaty of friendship which is to be included in the text signed in Ankara. However, no specific guarantee will be given by Turkey of the frontiers of Syria as they now stand.

Since Syria formed a part of the old Ottoman Empire, Syrian nationalists fear that the time has come to write a new treaty. Turkey may demand still more territory to add to the Hatay Republic. The Socialist, Communist and Independent Rightist opposition to Deladier constantly has attacked him, charging he was giving too much in exchange for an alliance with Turkey.

JERSEY DELEGATES TO BE ROOSEVELT'S, SAYS SENATOR

Senators Joins Views in Urging Third Term; Guffy of Logan of Kentucky.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—Democratic Senators from Pennsylvania and New Jersey predicted yesterday that delegates from their states to the 1940 Democratic convention would support President Roosevelt for a third term.

About the same time, Senator Logan (Dem.), Kentucky, said he hoped Mr. Roosevelt would not run for a third term, but added he would support him if he did become a candidate.

King and Queen Back In England From America

Met at Sea by Daughters—Receive Tumultuous Reception in London and at Southampton Where They Land.

LONDON, June 22 (AP).—London's loyal millions gave a tumultuous welcome to King George and Queen Elizabeth today as they returned to the capital from a six-week tour through Canada and to the United States.

The royal pair arrived at Waterloo station at 5:24 p. m. (10:24 a. m., St. Louis time) aboard their special train from Southampton and drove slowly in an open carriage through streets lined with wildly cheering subjects.

The King and Queen entered Buckingham Palace, their London home, at 5:38 p. m., concluding a precedent-breaking 15,000-mile trip. Their London subjects, mindful of the warm reception accorded the royal couple in Canada and the United States, turned out in great numbers, waved flags and carried "welcome home" placards.

The welcoming party at the station included United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy and Cabinet Ministers.

Queen Elizabeth chatted a few minutes with Kennedy while the King was talking with Prime Minister Chamberlain.

In the royal carriage with their parents rode Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, who had gone on a destroyer to board the royal liner before their arrival at Southampton.

The King, Queen and Princesses received an ovation when they appeared on a balcony of Buckingham Palace at 6:16 p. m. The King saluted, then joined his wife and daughters in waving to the crowd.

Their trans-Atlantic liner, the Empress of Britain, docked at 2:39 p. m. at Southampton.

On a drab and misty sky the King and Queen gazed from the bridge of the Empress on a panorama of color beneath waving flags and the pennants of smaller craft in the harbor and flower bedecked welcoming arches.

Naval Cancellation.
The most prompted cancellation of naval exercises of welcome planned for the 31 ships and 14,000 sailors on the fleet, but the weather had no effect on enthusiasm of those on land.

The Princesses, dressed alike in fawn camel hair coats and gray berets, arose an hour earlier than usual and traveled to Portsmouth by train, aboard which a London stationmaster had provided individual sets of comic strips.

With binoculars borrowed from officers of the destroyer Kempenfelt, the Princesses eagerly watched for a first glimpse of the Empress of Britain, bringing home their parents at the end of a trip begun May 6.

Once aboard the Empress, the princesses kissed and hugged their parents and accompanied them to the bridge, where the King took a salute from a destroyer.

Princesses Toss Out Balloons.
The Princesses had a romp with their parents at their reunion aboard the boat.

Balloons were released and the King and Queen joined the children in playing with them.

Finally the Princesses threw the balloons out of portholes to crowd on smaller craft nearby.

Welcomed by Family.
Queen Mother Mary, walking apparently without any stiffness from her automobile accident of May 23, led the royal family aboard the liner for a private half hour of greeting before the King and Queen came down a richly carpeted gangplank.

Southampton, with a normal population of 130,000, had 300,000 people in the streets and at the dock for the welcome.

REPUBLICANS LOSE FIGHT TO CURTAIL AIR DEFENSE BILL

House Democrats Rally, Vote Down Proposal to Cut 1283 Planes From Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a $292,695,547 supplemental army appropriation after rejecting a Republican amendment which would have reduced by 1283 planes the proposed expansion of the Army Air Corps to 5500 planes.

Administration leaders, with reinforcements on hand, forced rejection of the amendment, tentatively approved yesterday. This averted what would have been the first major setback to be suffered by President Roosevelt's defense program.

Speaker Bankhead announced the rollcall vote on rejection as 217 to 150.

Before final passage by a voice vote the House also reversed itself on an amendment by Representative Ludlow (Dem.), Indiana, which would have earmarked $1,000,000 of the funds for training of Negro pilots.

This amendment, tentatively approved yesterday, was defeated by a standing vote of 207 to 43.

A motion to return the bill to committee to cut out the 1283 planes and provide $4,000,000 for construction of a few aviation research laboratory at Sunnyvale, Cal., lost by a 187 to 112 standing vote.

The bill would bring to $1,781,897,847 the appropriations and contract authorization voted for the Army and Navy thus far this session, a figure unprecedented in peacetime.

Oxford Honors Justice Frankfurter.
OXFORD, England, June 22 (AP).—Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter of the United States and Supreme Court and Britain's noted humorist, P. G. Wodehouse, creator of "Jeeves," received honorary degrees yesterday from Oxford University.

The degree of honorary doctor in civil laws was conferred on Justice Frankfurter and also on Lord Lothian, ambassador-designate to the United States. Wodehouse was made an honorary doctor of letters.

There are now in operation in the State 28 co-operative associations, serving about 30,000 farms in 80 counties. All were organized under the general co-operative law, and while it never has been tested in the courts, members of the association feared that it would be declared invalid if it should be attacked.

The bill passed yesterday was drawn by attorneys for the REA, and will permit electric service on farms and in towns of less than 1500 population. The co-operatives are prohibited from soliciting the business of customers of public utilities, the whole purpose of the act being to provide service for areas not now served by utilities.

The only amendment of importance adopted was one giving the State Public Service Commission jurisdiction over the erection of power lines along public highways and over public lands as a safety precaution. The commission is specifically denied any power of regulation of service, rates or financing of the co-operatives.

President Roosevelt signed a bill yesterday which its author, Representative McCormack (Dem.), Massachusetts, said "grew out of the feeling of Americans of Irish descent that it was unnecessary for Irish applicants to make a special renunciation of allegiance to the English King in addition to a general renunciation."

The new law requires only a general renunciation of allegiance to other governments. Congressional committees, who asked its enactment, said changes in the world's map made it difficult for some citizens to be to know specifically where their allegiance lay.

MISSOURI SENATE FINALLY PASSES RURAL POWER BILL

Electrification Measure Adopted Without Dissent
After Sponsor Lays Delay to R E A Activities.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, June 22.—The rural electrification bill, which an official of the REA in Washington said in a telegram to Gov. Stark 10 days ago was being held up in the Missouri Senate through the influence of public utility interests, was passed in the Senate late yesterday without opposition.

Three amendments, which did not injure the bill, were adopted, necessitating its return to the House for concurrence in the changes, and the bill received the votes of 33 Senators, one being absent.

After favorable House action on the amendments, co-operative associations in Missouri, operating under the general co-operative statute, which is of doubtful validity when used for this purpose, will have specific statutory authority.

Senator Paul C. Jones of Kennett, who sponsored the bill on the floor, criticized representatives of the REA for their activities in Jefferson City in behalf of the bill, and expressed the opinion that they had delayed the legislation by their zeal.

Under authority of the act, groups of rural persons may form co-operative associations to build transmission lines with funds obtained from the REA, to serve members of the associations. The purpose is to provide electric service at cost.

There are now in operation in the State 28 co-operative associations, serving about 30,000 farms in 80 counties. All were organized under the general co-operative law, and while it never has been tested in the courts, members of the association feared that it would be declared invalid if it should be attacked.

IRISH COMING TO U. S. NEEDN'T SPECIFICALLY RENOUNCE KING

Bill Signed Requiring New Citizens
Only to Repudiate Other Allegiances Generally.
WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP).—The Irish, who have been at feud with the English for a long, long time, won't have to renounce allegiance to the British crown any more in obtaining American citizenship.

President Roosevelt signed a bill yesterday which its author, Representative McCormack (Dem.), Massachusetts, said "grew out of the feeling of Americans of Irish descent that it was unnecessary for Irish applicants to make a special renunciation of allegiance to the English King in addition to a general renunciation."

The new law requires only a general renunciation of allegiance to other governments. Congressional committees, who asked its enactment, said changes in the world's map made it difficult for some citizens to be to know specifically where their allegiance lay.

German Marine Artillery to Take Part in Danzig Navy Day.
DANZIG, June 22 (AP).—A detachment of Germany's Fifth Marine Artillery, stationed at Pillau, in East Prussia, will come to Danzig Sunday with a naval band to participate in navy day. They will be accompanied by Admiral Fleischer, commander of the Pillau station.

The German Navy Association also will send delegates and a speech will be made by Admiral Otto Schultze at a ceremony unveiling a monument to sailors killed in the World War.

The Danzig Singing Society said that 1000 Germans living in Poland had been forbidden by the Polish Government to come here tomorrow to participate in a choral festival.

Do You Know Why A Will That Doesn't Leave an Estate in Trust Doesn't Meet Modern Conditions?

IN MOST CASES, a will that doesn't leave all or a portion of the testator's estate in trust doesn't meet modern conditions. Such a will fails to meet today's conditions under the following circumstances:

1. If the estate consists largely of securities and if the beneficiaries lack experience and specialized training in investment management, lack opportunity for giving continuous supervision to investments or lack facilities for obtaining accurate, comprehensive and prompt investment information.
2. If the estate is substantial and the beneficiaries are wife (or husband) and children.
3. If any beneficiary is a minor.
4. If the family consists of husband and wife, no children and if they intend the estate to go to charity upon the death of the survivor.
5. If any beneficiary is physically or mentally incapacitated.

If the estate consists of securities and the beneficiaries lack investment training or facilities for continuous and informed investment supervision, a trust is needed to provide investment management.

If the beneficiaries are wife (or husband) and children, a trust is needed to prevent that part of the estate which passes to the wife (or husband) from being taxed twice before passing to the children.

If any beneficiary is a minor, his or her share must be left in trust to avoid (1) the heavy expenses of a guardianship; (2) the antiquated, burdensome investment handicaps to a guardianship; (3) the necessity of distributing principal to the beneficiary at an imprudently young age (age 21).

If the family consists of husband and wife alone and if they plan to have the estate go to charity upon the death of the survivor, a trust may eliminate most of the tax burden and thereby increase both the survivor's income from the estate and the amount of principal ultimately distributed to charity.

If any beneficiary is physically or mentally incapacitated, a trust is needed to provide management of the property and proper care for the beneficiary.

Under today's conditions people of means rarely can afford not to leave their estates in trust.

The St. Louis Union Trust Company is well qualified to serve as your executor and trustee. Like other trust institutions it has a permanent existence and financial responsibility. It likewise has the unique advantages derived from the fact that it conducts a trust business exclusively, that it has no deposit liabilities, that it does no banking. Its policy-making executive officers, for example, are trust-trained men with a trust viewpoint. It has the advantages derived from its large volume of trust business which permit it to maintain facilities for service, which a smaller trust business could not support, and thereby to specialize to a greater degree than otherwise would be possible. For example, our large trust investment department permits the division of our investment staff into groups, each assigned to a particular field of investment.

We invite you to come in and confer with our officers about the advantages of our services under today's conditions.

Two Reasons for LEAVING YOUR ESTATE IN TRUST
1. To provide experienced investment management.
2. To avoid double taxation.

LEMAI POTTERY PLANT BURNS; LOSS $20,000

Factory Not in Operation Because of Fire Thought to Have Been Struck By Lightning.

The Missouri Pottery & Supply Co. plant at Lemay, St. Louis County, was destroyed late yesterday by fire thought to have been caused by lightning.

The plant, which manufactures flowerpots, was not in operation and fires in the three kilns had been extinguished. Residents of the neighborhood turned in an alarm when dense smoke was observed issuing from the two-story frame and sheet metal building on the Missouri Pacific tracks near Bayless avenue at 6:30 p. m., at the height of an electric storm.

Deputy Sheriff Jacob Pfeiffer reported that W. G. Soutine, 4100 Bayless avenue, owner of the plant, estimated the loss at $20,000, partly covered by insurance. Damage to presses, other equipment and finished stock represented the greater part of the loss.

A crowd of about 5000 persons gathered and traffic was congested on Bayless avenue and Lemay Ferry road. Efforts to save the building were made by the Lemay, Melville and Jefferson Barracks fire departments which pumped water from Gravois Creek, a fifth of a mile away, since there were no hydrants nearby.

The Lemay and Melville fire departments were fighting a fire at the home of Edward Hindricks, 225

BAPTISTS' VIEWS ON RELIEF

Northern Church Deplores Government "Paternalism."

LOS ANGELES, June 22 (AP).—The "growing trend toward paternalism in the United States Government" was condemned yesterday by the Northern Baptist convention which deplored the "taking over of the philanthropic activities of the church by the Government."

Also criticized were "coercion of religious bodies through special taxes, use of tax-raised funds for sectarian schools and appropriation of public money to institutions created to extend the power and influence of any religious body."

Balanced Nourishment* for Breakfast is Important

There's a mighty lift for morning appetites in National Biscuit Shredded Wheat. The secret lies in the unique inner flavor we uncover in the sun-mellowed whole wheat kernel.

It is the special process we use. Gentle billows of pure steam swell and burst open the innermost flavor cells. Then in the form of tender strands we shape the softened grain into fragrant biscuits and bake them to a tempting nut-brown crispness.

Two biscuits in a bowl with a cupful of milk give you pick-up nourishment that's balanced—seven vital food essentials for muscles, nerves, blood, teeth and bones. Add to it your favorite fruit or berries.

Get a package or two today, for delicious balanced nourishment, to wake up morning appetites.

VEAL LOAF RECOMMENDED TO HUNGRY FAMILY

This veal loaf has much that will recommend it to a hungry family.

Have you tried it in stuffing? You'll like it.

Stuffed Veal Loaf.
One and one-half pounds ground lean veal.
Few grains pepper.
One cup thick sour cream.
One and one-half teaspoons salt.
One tablespoon chopped onion.
Three-fourths cup finely chopped celery.
Four tablespoons butter.
Three cups soft bread crumbs.
Three-fourths teaspoon sage.
Two tablespoons milk.
Mix the veal with the pepper, sour cream, three-fourths teaspoon of the salt and one-half tablespoon of the onion. Line a buttered loaf pan with this mixture reserving about one-fourth of it. Cook the celery and the remaining one-half tablespoon of onion in two tablespoons of the butter over low heat for about five minutes, stirring oc-asionally. Add the remaining butter and stir until melted. Mix the crumbs, sage, a few grains of pepper and the remaining salt and add the onion and celery mixture and milk. Mix well, place in the meat lined loaf pan and cover with the remaining meat. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 20 minutes or until the loaf will hold its shape. Turn out into a shallow pan and bake for about 50 minutes longer, basting once or twice with the liquid in the bottom of the pan. Serves six.

SANDWICH FILLINGS NEED NOT BE SOGGY.

Addition of Tapioca Makes Them Hold Moisture—May Be Made Early.

It's a real art to make picnic sandwiches; a few tricks about cutting and packing, and plenty of good fillings, and they're bound to be a success.

The filling is most important. Delicious spreads are possible, so that the sandwiches can be made hours ahead of time without becoming either dry or soggy. If you wish, you can carry the fillings and the sliced, buttered bread with you and put your sandwiches together at the scene of the picnic. A quick and easy way to make sandwiches is to slice bread lengthwise of the loaf and spread evenly with softened, though not melted, butter.
You can spread the filling on a whole long slice almost as easily as on a small slice, and it's enough for three or four sandwiches.

Mixed Ham Sandwich Filling.
One cup water.
Three tablespoons quick-cooking
tapioca.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
One-half pound boiled ham, ground.
One-fourth cup chopped sweet pickle.
One tablespoon minced onion.
One tablespoon vinegar.
One tablespoon mayonnaise.

Combine water, quick-cooking tapioca, salt, pepper, onion, vinegar and mix well. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Combine remaining ingredients in order given; add to tapioca mixture and blend. Cool.
Makes two cups.

Cheese and Olive Sandwich Filling.
Three tablespoons quick-cooking
tapioca.
One teaspoon salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
One-eighth teaspoon paprika.
One-half teaspoon dry mustard.
One cup milk.
Two and one-half cups (one-half pound) grated American cheese.
One teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
Three-fourths cup chopped
stuffed olives.

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, salt, pepper, paprika, mustard, and milk in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 8 to 10 minutes after water boils again, stirring frequently.
Add cheese slowly, stirring until melted. Remove from boiling water, then add Worcestershire sauce and olives. Cool—mixture thickens as it cools. Makes two and one-fourth cups sandwich filling.
Spread on thinly sliced white or dark bread.

Nippy Cheese Sandwich Filling.
Two cups strained canned tomatoes (juice and pulp).
Two tablespoons quick-cooking
tapioca.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
One-fourth teaspoon dry mustard.
Two and one-half cups (one-half pound) grated American cheese.
One and one-fourth cups (one-fourth pound) ground dried beef.
One-fourth teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

To prepare filling, place liquid in top of double boiler and bring to a boil over direct heat. Combine tapioca and dry seasonings;
add gradually to liquid and bring to a brisk boil, stirring constantly.
Place immediately over rapidly boiling water and cook five minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from boiling water. Combine remaining ingredients in order given;
add to tapioca mixture and blend.
Cool—mixture thickens as it cools.
Makes two and one-half cups filling.

ICE CREAM FUDGE
One-half cup milk.
Two cups confectioners' sugar.
One-half cup heavy cream.
One tablespoon butter.
One-half teaspoon almond extract.
Combine milk and sugar and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Continue cooking without stirring until sirupy, about 225 degrees, and add cream and butter. Continue cooking to soft ball stage (235 degrees). Turn into earthen bowl and let stand until cold. Add vanilla and beat until thick and spongy. Scoop out onto greased pan, press flat, and cut in squares.

BACON IS EXCELLENT SUMMER MEAT BUY

May Be Served With Main Meal or Vegetable Salad Broiled or Fried.

Bacon is an excellent summer meat buy. Not for years has the supply been so ample and the price so economical. This stand-by in the meat family is too often given a minor role to play in the family dietary, and makes its appearance in the first act only, with the breakfast eggs.

Bacon is a good summer meat for the main meal of the day. It is so very quick to prepare, adds such a grand flavor to the summer vegetable salad served with it, and it is just light enough for warm weather eating.

With the supply of bacon at its peak you can be assured of the fine quality you desire for there is so much from which to choose in grading the product in the packing house. Fine quality means slices even in width; with an even distribution of rosy lean and clear creamy fat layers; bacon with that delightful aroma of hickory smoke and sweet sugar cure. If bacon has these characteristics it will fry or broil evenly to a crisp, golden goodness.

Many like broiled bacon the best. It seems to retain more of its own fine flavor by this method of cooking and does not curl when cooked. Baked bacon, prepared by laying the strips on a wire rack in the oven until just the right degree of crispness is acquired, is a fine method if you have the oven already in use. Baked bacon need not be turned and lies as straight as a ribbon when cooked. If you decide to pan fry in preference to the above methods be sure to use a very low fire and turn the bacon frequently, pouring off the fat now and then.

Bacon is delicious with green beans, new cabbage, broiled or cold tomatoes, corn-on-the-cob, fresh spinach, new creamed potatoes or potato salad, fried or deviled eggs, and with all kinds of broiled fruits. Any of these are "quickies" in the summer menu yet give that satisfaction of appetite usually attributed to more elaborate meals.

Here are some quick bacon menus for summer-time meals:

- Hot Bacon Sliced Tomatoes and Cucumbers
- Heated Rolls Jam Butter
- Iced Tea
- Chocolate Ice Box Cake
- Whipped Cream

Baked Bacon Corn-on-the-Cob Pickled Beets Jellyed Tomato Juice Salad Hot Rolls Butter Raspberry Shortcake Cream Iced Coffee

Broiled Bacon Broiled Halves of Tomatoes Creamed New Cabbage Grapefruit and Calavo Salad Whole Wheat Bread Butter Fresh Fruit Sundae Coffee

Raspberry Pie. Crush red raspberries, measure one cup, add three-fourths cup of confectioners' sugar and one teaspoon of lemon juice and allow the mixture to stand until the sugar is dissolved. Soften two teaspoons of plain gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water for five minutes, then dissolve over hot water. Add the raspberries and chill until the mixture begins to thicken. Whip one cup of heavy cream until it is stiff. Fold through the raspberry mixture and pour into a nine-inch baked or graham cracker pie shell. Chill until firm. Garnish the pie with a wreath of slightly sweetened whipped cream and a few whole raspberries.

A NEW HOT BREAD HOLDS BREAKFAST INTEREST

Breakfast is more likely to become a routine meal than either lunch or dinner. Try a new hot bread if your breakfast needs perk-up.

Fruit Filled Breakfast Ring.
Two and a half cups sifted cake flour, two and a half teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, four tablespoons sugar, five tablespoons butter or other shortening, one egg, slightly beaten, seven tablespoons milk, melted butter, one-half cup brown sugar, firmly packed, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half cup chopped walnut meats, and place on ungreased baking sheet. With scissors, cut one-inch slices, almost through ring, turning each slice out-side up and pointing outer edges. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 25 minutes, or until done. Remove to cake rack and while hot spread with glaze made by combining one cup sifted confectioners' sugar and two tablespoons milk (about). Serve warm or cold.

Cook one-half cup of washed rice in boiling salted water until it is tender. Drain, steam and add one-fourth cup of sugar to the rice while it is quite hot. Drain one cup crushed pineapple and mix with the cooled rice; whip one-fourth pint of cream and fold into the first mixture. Pack into cups when ready to serve, garnish with or without additional dressing which should be a boiled dressing made with lemon juice instead of vinegar.

ICE CREAM SEASON IS OFFICIALLY OPEN

Addition of Extra Cream, Gelatin or Eggs Makes Smoother Mixture.

If you haven't already done so, it is now time to dust off the hand cranked freezer, the electric gadget, or the additional freezing trays because ice cream time is here. Fresh berries and fruits are coming on the markets for every kind of frozen dessert from plain water ices to elegant mousses.

Whatever method you prefer to use for arriving at ice cream you will find that it will be creamier if extra cream, gelatin, marshmallows or marshmallow cream, whole eggs or egg white, or evaporated milk is added to the mixture. All refrigerator ice cream needs an addition of this kind.

The creaminess of the product and the length of time it takes to freeze depend partly on the proportion of salt to ice in the freezing mixture in the hand turned freezer. One part salt to about five or six parts ice is a good proportion. Ice cream frozen in the unit is improved by cooling the mixture before putting it in the unit.

Lemon Sherbet.
One-half pound marshmallows.
One-half cup water.
One-half cup lemon juice.
One-eighth teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Few grains salt.
Two egg whites.
One tablespoon sugar.
Place marshmallows and two tablespoons of the water in the top part of a double boiler and melt over hot water. Cool and blend the remaining water, lemon juice, rind and salt. Beat egg whites until they hold peaks and add sugar slowly, beating constantly. Blend lightly with marshmallow mixture and turn into freezing trays. Stir twice during freezing process.

Banana Ice Cream.
Six ripe bananas.
One cup orange juice.
Grated rind of one-half orange.
Two cups milk.
One and one-half cups sugar.
Two cups thin cream.
Slice bananas. Place in bowl and pour orange juice over them. Let stand five minutes. Force through coarse strainer. Bring milk and orange rind to scolding point in double boiler. Remove from heat. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Cool. Combine with banana pulp and chill. Add cream. Freeze in two-quart freezer. Remove dasher. Pack in ice and salt for one-half hour or more after freezing. Makes two quarts.

Note: Two cups canned apple sauce may be substituted for bananas. Sprinkle each serving with nutmeg or cinnamon.

Pineapple Sherbet.
Three-quarters cup granulated sugar.
One-third cup water.
One No. 2 can crushed pineapple.
One cup thin cream.
Two tablespoons lemon juice.
One teaspoon lemon extract.
One cup milk.
Mix sugar and water, simmer gently 10 minutes. Add pineapple, lemon juice and lemon extract. Chill and mix with one cup milk and one cup thin cream. Freeze in two-quart freezer. Remove dasher. Pack in ice and salt for one-half hour after freezing.

Sprinkle each portion with cinnamon or powdered cloves. Note: Freezing directions... Pour mixture to be frozen into freezing container of ice cream freezer. To allow for expansion, fill not more than two-thirds full. Assemble and cover. Pack mixture of cracked ice and rock salt (using three parts of ice to one part of salt by volume) around the freezing container. Turn crank slowly but steadily, about five minutes. When mixture becomes difficult to turn, remove cover carefully, take out dasher, and pack down evenly with a spoon. Cover ice cream with wax paper and replace cover. Draw off water and replenish ice and salt mixture. Cover and allow to harden at least one-half hour before serving.

Chocolate Ice Cream.
One square unsweetened chocolate.
Two-thirds cup sweetened condensed milk.
Two-thirds cup water.
One-half teaspoon powdered mace.
One-half cup whipping cream.
Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add mace. Whip cream to custard-like consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. After mixture is about half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth, but not until melted. Smooth out and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving. Serves six.

TO ADDRESS MEETING

Gene Flack, trade relations counsel of the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Co., will address a meeting of the Associated Grocers at 8 p. m. next Tuesday. His talk will cover recent developments and current trends in the food industry.

JELLIED TOMATO BOUILLON

One large can tomatoes.
One package gelatin.
Two medium onions.
One stalk celery.
Few pieces clove.
One cup chicken stock or bouillon.
One tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.
Salt, pepper to taste.
Chop onions and celery fine. Simmer with tomatoes and cloves 30 minutes. Remove from stove and strain. Add stock and seasonings, and cook 15 minutes longer. Soak gelatin in a little cold water and dissolve in cup of hot soup. Add to rest of soup and set aside to congeal. Garnish with parsley and serve with thin lemon slices and cheese straws.
Two-thirds cup molasses.

Three-fourths cup sour milk or buttermilk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, spices and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and molasses, then flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in greased cup-cake pans in moderate oven (375 degrees) 20 minutes, or until done. Makes two dozen cup cakes.

WHEAT PRICE OFF TO LOW LEVEL FOR TWO MONTHS

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP).—Wheat values touched another cent a bushel today to the lowest level in two months.

Establishment of new lows for the season at Liverpool and Winnipeg, movement of new crop wheat to terminals in the Southwest, weakness in corn and rye prices and prospects of better harvest weather were factors that encouraged continuation of the selling that has caused the sharp wheat market break of the last few weeks.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent lower than yesterday, July 65 1/2, September 69 1/2, corn 1 1/2 down, July 47 1/2, September 49 1/2, oats 5 1/2, rye 1 1/2. Earlier wheat had shown some recovery power.

Arrivals at Southwest markets continued in excess of a year ago, but there were indications of a letup in marketing in the Northwest. Supplies at 12 principal terminals, however, were more than double a year ago and more than triple a year ago.

Further weakness at Liverpool, while not reflecting yesterday's decline in the Chicago market, and rains in the spring wheat belt both sides of the Canadian border were an additional bearish factor. Early lows of 69 1/2 for July and 69 1/2 for September attracted heavy buying for September attracted heavy buying for September attracted heavy buying for September.

Reports of delayed harvest in the Southwest because of excessive rains and of some crop damage due to rodents had a slightly bullish effect. However, the trade was inclined to minimize possibility of serious damage from a wet harvest, although it was pointed out that too much moisture may delay the time when new wheat will be of satisfactory quality for milling.

Liverpool prices were at new low levels for the last nine years, reflecting the bearing situation prevailing in North America. Losses there amounted to about a cent at times.

Corn prices, as well as oats and rye, reacted with wheat. Good rains throughout the corn belt were regarded as highly beneficial for the young plants, but results of old corn showed a tendency to decline. Early losses in corn, however, had a slight bullish effect.

White oats prices, following yesterday's break, had a much steeper decline. Load was unsteady, with action in grain effecting strength in bids.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, June 22.—In the cash grain market today, corn was lower and oats unchanged. Oats were 1/2 cent lower on the floor of the exchange. Sales were as follows:

No. 2 red winter wheat, 76c; sample grade red winter wheat, 67c; No. 1 yellow corn, 50 1/2c; No. 2 yellow corn, 50 1/2c; No. 2 mixed oats, 36c.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES 3 TO 13 POINTS HIGHER

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP).—Heavy foreign buying featured active dealings in cotton futures today.

Trade prices were strong and short covering in July absorbed limited liquidation while most of the offerings in deferred months came from local professionals, New Orleans and the South.

After the foreign markets closed buying tapered off as export taking and hedge selling made its appearance and the market eased off 4 to 9 points. The flat in mid-afternoon ranged from unchanged to points higher. July at 9 1/2 was unchanged and May was 6 higher at 8 1/2.

Initial prices: July 9 1/2; Oct. 8 1/2; Dec. 8 1/2; Jan. 8 1/2; March 8 1/2; May 8 1/2.

Strength in new crop positions reflected trade belief an export subsidy may be enacted through funds available in the agricultural appropriation bill, scheduled to come up for a vote in the House today.

General buying came from practically all portions of the trade and from Bombay and Liverpool sources. However, the market eased 4 to 6 points from the best as foreign buying tapered off.

At mid-morning prices ranged 5 to 11 higher with the near month up to 9 1/2 and distant May 10 ahead at 8 1/2.

Activity subsided later and prices eased 3 to 5 points from early highs on selling by local professionals and on hedge Southern offerings also became more tapered off.

Despite heavy July liquidation the spot market remained steady on trade price fixing and short covering. The gain around noon was unchanged to 10 points higher. July was unchanged at 9 1/2 and October was 8 higher at 8 1/2.

Futures closed 3 to 13 higher.

DEWEY LOOKING INTO ACTORS' UNION BOOKS

Audit of American Federation, Accused of Misusing $12,997, Subpenaed.

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP).—An inquiry into the finances of the American Federation of Actors, a body of L. A. union headed by Sophie Tucker, blues singer, is being made by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office.

The District Attorney yesterday subpoenaed an accountant's report made during an investigation of the union by its F. of L. parent body, the Associated Actors and Artists of America, which has charged that $12,997 collected by the A. F. A. at three benefit shows for the relief of needy performers was diverted to other administrative use.

Eddie Cantor, radio star and former honorary president of the A. F. A., resigned from the union recently. He telegraphed Miss Tucker: "You have been misled in this present controversy and as a friend I plead with you to resign as quickly as possible or you too will innocently involve yourself."

Rejecting his plea, she replied: "Even a murderer is entitled to a trial. Eddie, you have found us guilty without hearing our evidence. I suggest that you withdraw your resignation until this investigation is completed."

Actress Sues Director-Husband. LOS ANGELES, June 22 (AP).—Movie actress Enid Purvish sued Henry Spitz, movie director, for divorce yesterday charging desertion. They married at Tijuana, Mexico, in 1934 and separated a year ago.

CHAPTER FIVE

ALEC RUSH, who had sat at still through the recital of this history as a carven monster, now leaned over his desk, and put a husky question:

"And who is this Hubert Landow?"

Ralph Millar shook his head and said:

"I don't know him. I've seen him. I know nothing of him."

"Mrs. Landow ever speak of him? I mean when she was in the trust company?"

"It's likely, but I don't remember."

"So you didn't know what to make of it then when you heard she'd married him?"

The younger man looked up with frightened brown eyes.

"What are you getting at, Rush?"

You don't think—Yes, as you say, I was surprised. What are you getting at?"

"The marriage license," the detective said, ignoring his client's repeated question, "was issued to Landow four days before the wedding-day, four days before Jerome Falsoner's body was found."

Millar shook his head hopelessly.

"I don't know what you're getting at," he mumbled. "The whole thing is bewildering."

"Isn't it fact, Mr. Millar," the detective's voice filled the office with hoarse insistence, "that you were on more friendly terms with Sara Falsoner than with anyone else in the trust company?"

The younger man raised his head and looked Alec Rush in the eyes.

His red eyes were evilly reflective on the ceiling.

"Your fact is," he said quietly, "that I asked Sara Falsoner to marry me the day she left."

"Yeah. And she—"

"And she—I suppose it was my fault. I was clumsy, crude, whatever you like. God knows what she thought—that I was asking her to marry me out of pity, that I was trying to force her into marriage by discharging her when I knew she was head over heels in debt! She might have thought anything. Anyhow, it was—it was disagreeable."

"You mean she not only refused you, but was—well—disagreeable about it?"

"I do mean that."

Alec Rush sat back in his chair and breathed fresh grotesqueries into his face by twisting his thick mouth crookedly up at one corner.

His red eyes were evilly reflective on the ceiling.

"The only thing for it," he decided, "is to go to Landow and give him just what we've got."

"But are you sure he—?" Millar objected.

"Unless he's one whale of an actor, he's a lot in love with his wife," the detective said with certainty. "That's enough to justify taking the story to him."

Millar was unconvinced.

"You're sure it would be wisest?"

"Yeah, we've got to go to one of three people with the tale—him, her, or the police. I think he's the best bet, but take your choice."

The younger man nodded reluctantly.

"All right. But you don't have to bring me into it, do you?" with quick alarm. "You can handle it so I won't be involved. You understand what I mean? She's his wife, and it would be..."

"Sure," Alec Rush promised. "I'll keep you covered up."

HUBERT LANDOW, twisting the detective's card in his fingers, received Alec Rush in a somewhat luxurious furnished room in the second story of the Charles Street Avenue house. He was standing—tall, blond, boyishly handsome—in the middle of the floor, facing the door, when the detective was shown in.

"You wish to see me? Here, sit down."

Hubert Landow's manner was neither restrained nor hearty. It was precisely the manner that

SYNOPSIS

Ralph Millar, banker, secretly retains Detective Alec Rush to watch over Mrs. Hubert Landow, the former Sara Falsoner, who is being shadowed by an underworld character, Scuttle Zep. The latter informs Rush that he has been hired by two women to kill Mrs. Landow. Rush, realizing Millar has withheld vital information, sends the facts. Reluctantly Millar tells him the story of Mrs. Landow. She is the niece and heir of one Jerome Falsoner, millionaire playboy, who had been found stabbed to death six months before. The day before her uncle's death Millar had been forced to discharge Miss Falsoner from her job at the bank. The next day she married Hubert Landow.

"Yeah," said Alec Rush as they sat in facing chairs. "I've got something to tell you. It won't take much time, but it's kind of wild. It might be a surprise to you, and it might not. But it's on the level. I don't want you to think I'm kidding you."

Hubert Landow bent forward, his face all interest.

"I won't," he promised. "Go on." "A couple of days ago I got a line on a man who might be tied up in a job I'm interested in. He's a crook. Trailing him around, I discovered he was interested in your affairs, and your wife's. He's shadowed you and he's shadowed her. He was loafing down the street from a Mount Royal Avenue apartment that you went in yesterday, and he went in there later himself."

"But what the devil is he up to?" Landow exclaimed. "You think he's—"

"Wait," the ugly man advised. "Wait until you've heard it all, and then you can tell me what you make of it. He came out of there and went to Camden Station, where he met a young woman. They talked a bit, and later in the afternoon she was picked up in a department store shoplifting. Her name is Polly Bangs, and she's done a hitch in Wisconsin for the same racket. Your photograph was on her dresser."

Alec Rush nodded placidly up into the face of the young man who was now standing.

"Yours. You know this Polly Bangs? A chunky, square-bit girl of twenty-six or so, with brown hair and eyes—saucy looking?"

Hubert Landow's face was a puzzled blank.

"Not. What the devil could she be doing with my picture?" he demanded. "Are you sure it was mine?"

"Not dead sure, maybe, but sure enough to need proof that it wasn't. Maybe she's somebody you've forgotten, or maybe she ran across the picture somewhere and kept it because she liked it."

"Nonsense!" The blond man squirmed at this tribute to his face, and blushed a vivid red beside which Alec Rush's complexion was almost colorless. "There must be some sensible reason. She has been arrested, you say?"

"Yeah, but she's out on bail now. But let us get along with my story. Last night this thug I've told you about and I had a talk. He claims he has been hired to kill your wife."

Hubert Landow, who had returned to his chair, now jerked in it so that its joints creaked strainingly. His face, crimson a second ago, drained paper white. Another sound than the chair's creaking was faint in the room: the least of muffled gasps. The blond young man did not seem to hear it, but Alec Rush's bloodshot eyes flicked sidewise for an instant to focus fleetingly on a closed door across the room.

Landow was out of his chair again, leaning down to the detective, his fingers digging into the ugly man's loose muscular shoulders.

"This is horrible!" he was crying. "We've got to—"

THE door at which the detective had looked a moment ago opened. A beautiful tall girl came through—Sara Landow. Her hair, rumpled, was an auburn cloud around her white face. She walked slowly toward the men, her body inclined a little forward, as if against a strong wind.

"It's no use, Hubert," her voice was dead as her eyes. "We may as well face it. It's Madeline Boudin. She has found out that I killed my uncle."

"Hush, darling, hush!" Landow caught his wife in his arms and tried to soothe her with a caressing hand on her shoulder. "You don't know what you're saying."

"Oh, but I do! She shrugged herself listlessly out of his arms and sat in the chair Alec Rush had just vacated. "It's Madeline Boudin, you know. It's. She knows I killed Uncle Jerome."

Landow whirled to the detective, both hands going out to grip the ugly man's arm.

"You won't listen to what she's saying, Rush?" he pleaded. "She hasn't been well. She doesn't know

Alec Rush, standing arms akimbo, legs apart, scowled at her, saying nothing. "You can't, Rush!" Landow was tugging at the detective's arm again. "You can't, man. It's ridiculous! You—"

"Where does this Madeline Boudin fit in? Alec Rush's harsh voice demanded. "I know she was chummy with Jerome, but why should she want your wife killed?" Landow hesitated, shifting his feet, and when he replied it was reluctantly.

"She was Jerome's mistress, had a child by him. My wife, when she learned of it, insisted on making her a settlement out of the estate. It was in connection with that that I went to see her yesterday."

"Yeah. Now to get back to Jerome: you and your wife were supposed to be in her apartment at the time he was killed, if I remember right?"

Sara Landow sighed with spiritless impatience. "Must there be all this discussion?" she asked in a small, tired voice. "I killed him. No one else killed him. No one else was there when I killed him. I stabbed him with the paper-knife when he attacked me, and he said: 'Don't! I'll kill you!' and began to cry, down on his knees, and I ran out."

Alec Rush looked from the girl to the man. Landow's face was wet with perspiration, his hands
